EL PASO.

We look with wonder on the substantial improvement El Paso has made in the past eighteen months. Her growth goes steadily and evenly on. The architect, builder, and mechanic have been working "overtime". Everything has proceeded quietly and orderly. A boom has not even been hinted. City Clerk Catlin's books show $913,077 in building permits from Nov. 1, 1897 to July 15, 1899. The numerous new cosy homes, palatial residences and commodious business buildings make it clearly apparent that you received quid pro quo for every dollar invested. In addition to this the County Clerk's records show real estate transfers to the extent of a round million dollars, making it manifest that conservative investors have an abiding faith in El Paso dirt.

Our census shows a population of 20,523, an increase of 1,896 since our previous canvass a year and a half ago. That this is no small matter, we will state that Galveston, during the same period, shows a decrease of 1,143. the comparison is made to emphasize the fact that El Paso is today the most progressive city in the state, and no town within Texas' borders has greater possibilities or a brighter future. A matchless geographical position—splendid transportation facilities—commercial enterprise of high order—banks of acknowledged strength and conservatism—extensive and profitable manufactories—a vigorous, alert press—splendid private and public schools—incomparable climatic advantages—imposing public and private buildings—good hotels—macadamized streets—telephone system—electric lights—all these essentials, backed up by the vim, grit, energy and push which have characterized her in the past should double the population of El Paso in the next few years.

We thank the people of El Paso for their generous support, and for the kind assistance rendered us while making the canvass.

POSTOFFICES IN TEXAS.

(From the United States Postal Guide, compiled and published by Metropolitan Job Print, New York, N. Y.)

The postoffices of Texas are divided into four classes, the first three being called presidential postoffices, for the reason that when the salary of a postmaster reaches the sum of one thousand dollars, the appointment by law vests in the president. In the fourth-class are found nearly all the offices; the salary being less than one thousand dollars, the postmaster is appointed by the postmaster-general. The first-class contains all offices where the salary is at least three thousand dollars; the second-class runs from two thousand to three thousand dollars, and the third class from one thousand to two thousand dollars. Total population of the United states, as per U. S. census of 1890, was 62,903,318; of Texas, 2,235,523.

The total number of postoffices in Texas January 1, 1899, was 2,875 of which 7 are first-class; 21 second-class; 120 third-class; 2,727 fourth-class; 148 presidential offices. The total number of money order offices was 971 and limited money order offices 75. There are 20 cities in the State which have the free delivery service—Austin, Corsicana, Dallas, Denison, El Paso, Fort Worth, Gainesville, Galveston, Greenville, Hillsboro, Houston, Laredo, Marshall, Palestine, Paris, San Antonio, Sherman, Temple, Tyler and Waco.

NOTE—Offices in italic denote the County Seat. Money order offices are marked*
