Re Tom Karasick

Mr. Karasick informs me that his father recently became a Canadian citizen. The young man claims to be a minor, but he is not sure of his age. Should we be able to establish his age as that of a minor, there would seem but little difficulty in your getting the necessary papers for his entry into Canada. We would then secure for him a transient visa, and he will be able to travel through the U.S. to the Canadian border.

Kindly let me know what action you are taking in this matter. A prompt reply will be appreciated.
Sincerely

Send copy of this letter to father address on other side ask him for answer -
