In mining and metallurgic terminology a flow sheet is a diagrammatic method of showing the processes of an entire operation, step by step, from beginning to end.

In "Miner" tradition, we call the Texas Western College annual the Flowsheet because it traces the history of student life step by step through all phases of college activity.

From the rush of registration and beginning classes, football games and fraternity pledging in the first days of school, to the final exams and at last, graduation, the Flowsheet follows the student. The dances, friends, the big game, the parade, all the traditions and memories of college life are recorded in pictures and copy, for the student to look back on in days ahead, in the Flowsheet.

dedication

In September of 1914, the Texas School of Mining and Metallurgy opened in an old building on the grounds of Ft. Bliss. Then Franklin Street was the northern most extent of El Paso, and Model "T"s" bounced over the newly paved streets, but most of the roads were still trails, and many students walked or rode a horse to the new college.

In 1916 the building burned, and the college moved into three new buildings, still in use, on its present location.

Here, at the cross roads of the last great Spanish empire, in the midst of legends of El Dorado and mining traditions, with a faculty of six men and handful of students, Texas Western College was born.

Today, set in the foothills of the rugged Franklin Mountains, Texas Western College, with an enrollment of over 4,000 students, is known for its hillside campus, Tibetan architecture, and international atmosphere.

A growing El Paso brought art and science, then graduate programs, to meet the needs of the area; but engineering terminology lives on in the Flowsheet, Prospector, El Burro, and The Miners.

Like the desert prospector, looking ahead for what the next outcrop, the mountain range, will bring, an ever expanding Texas Western looks ahead for greater things. Already a new administration building is being completed.

The future of Texas Western College sounds like an ambitious dream . . . class rooms . . . better equipment . . . a field house . . . additional dormitories . . . an enlarged library . . . and enrollment reaching perhaps 10,000 students. . . . .

The theme of the 1956 FLOWSHEET has as its objective to portray the growth of Texas Western College since its beginning and to project some thoughts into the future. As Texas Western College completes its 42nd year of continuous growth and service, our thoughts naturally turn to that which has gone before, and dwell pleasantly upon those individuals and groups who have contributed in making Texas Western what it is today and what it is to become. When the school opened in 1914, a team of progress was born, and it has been carefully nurtured by a stout-hearted citizenry. To the present administration, faculty and student body, and to those sturdy pioneers, is owed a heavy debt of gratitude. To all of those, and to those who will help build the greater Texas Western College of tomorrow, the 1956 Flowsheet is respectfully dedicated. Today, with 42 years of experience, the College can look forward to the future with vigor and confidence.

The first MINER yearbook was published in 1915 as the Prospector. In 1922 an editorial staff was selected, and the first FLOWSHEET came out.

This copy of the Prospector shows that original staff. History of publications at Texas Western is colorful and significant, mirroring the progress and growth of the college.

The campus newspaper is the oldest college publication, having been first issued in magazine form as the Crucible in 1916. Three years later it assumed the name and form of the Prospector that we know today.

El Burro, the college variety magazine, was published first in 1939, portraying the antics of a wiry burro, The MINER mascot.

THE COLLEGE OF MINES AND METALLURGY of the UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS is the only institution in the United States offering exclusively a four year course in Mining Engineering. The location is ideal; the instruction is thorough and practical; the faculty consists of the most capable and experienced men. Expenses are moderate. Information will be gladly furnished by the Registrar.

Publicity today has become an important part of student life.

El Burro and the Prospector are the most widely read publications on campus; the ex-students print their own magazine, the Nugget, and the FM college radio station, KVOF, not only serves the college with music and news, but also the community with educational programs for the public schools.

Completed in 1948, KVOF acquired television facilities in 1954, and expects to have a televised educational program on campus by this summer, eventually planning to have closed circuit contact with every building on campus.

EL BURRO

El Burro is the monthly humor and pictorial magazine published at Texas Western by student journalists. Its contents are designed to suit the taste of every student faction, ranging from cartoons, jokes, pictures, and humorous articles to serious essays. El Burro is written and produced entirely by TWC students offering workshop opportunities to poets, photographers, cartoonists, artists, and writers, as well as to those interested in the advertising and business side of the publication.

FLOWSHEET

The Texas Western College yearbook is distributed in May of each year. It tells through pictorial and written records the story of college life during that particular year. The staff is composed of student journalists who work as artists, writers, layout technicians, photographers and make-up artists.

KVOF FM

Although the signal of radio station KVOF is confined to the campus area, it is, in every other respect, the counterpart of a standard commercial broadcast station. Operating from two modern studios, each with its own control room, KVOF plans its programs to suit college tastes. A staff of more than fifty radio-television majors is responsible for ten hours of broadcasting each day, and campus listeners are provided with on-the-spot-coverage of sports and special events that are of interest to Texas Western students.

THE PROSPECTOR

Published weekly during the fall and spring semester, The Prospector carries news, views, and other information of interest to the student body, faculty, and friends of Texas Western. The newspaper has won first place in the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association and All American awards for outstanding work in the journalism field.

Views

When, in October of 1917, the college moved to its present location, there were three new buildings and a powerhouse. "Old Main" now the Physics building, held all classes except chemistry, which was conducted in what is now the Geology building.

Burgess Hall, and a few years later Kelly Hall, were built as dormitories and later converted to class rooms.

Left of the power house the picture shows the old mill that was worked in conjunction with the practice mine up the hill. It was later torn down to make way for the southern addition of Seamon Hall.

The narrow dirt roads and the trails over which the students walked to school took care of student transportation.

A view of the campus today shows broad paved streets, cars without number, and parking at a premium.

Where football games were once played in a flatland between two goal posts, there is now a stadium seating 14,000 with modern press and broadcasting facilities.

The Texas Western campus today invariably excites the interest of the visitor and has become known as the most picturesque college campus in America. Several major college buildings are now on the drawing boards, and changes in the future will be equally as important as those of the past. Texas Western College is assured of a great future.

From the opening of the School of Mines in 1914, until his death in December, 1941, John W. Kidd, instructor, counselor, and Dean, pioneered the work that has gone to make Texas Western what it is today.

After the main building of the old school had burned on New Year's Day, 1915, "Cap" Kidd was in the field surveying the area of the present campus for the relocation of the college,

Since 1914, with a faculty of six and only three full time instructors, Texas Western has grown to become a major college with eighteen departments under the division of Arts and Sciences, Engineering and Graduate Students.

The era of "Cap" Kidd is gone. The school is now headed by a President instead of an administrative dean. Deans and department heads are bound more and more with administrative work.

And yet the college has not grown too large to be personal. From the classroom instructor to the President, the faculty still takes time to be confident, instructor, and friend, to anyone who needs them.

The Student Body of Texas Western College

My first year of association with Texas Western College is drawing to a close and as I look back over the events of the year one of the things which stands out very clearly is the excellent spirit of cooperation on the part of the student body. I hope this spirit will always exist on our campus as our college continues to grow academically as well as physically.

The students responsible for the 1956 edition of the Flowsheet are to be congratulated on a job well done, a trait which seems to be characteristic of many students and student organizations on our campus.

With every good wish, I am

Sincerely yours,

Every school has a few who excell, not only in scholarship, but in those activities that add greatly to student life.

Thirty years ago, those students hitched their wagons to a star and rode around in high topped cars, when it meant something to be one of the privileged few to own an automobile.

With that era gone, campus life has grown up with the college, there are more dances, plays, and a greater variety of varsity activities.

Today there are almost as many cars as students, and Monday morning finds the campus parking lots overflowing. Convertibles, American and foreign sports cars with the Texas Western queens lead every parade. That Texas Western has more than just a few exceptional students is proved by the rapidly growing reputation of the college.

These are the students the Flowsheet spotlights.

Dear Mr. Williams,
It has indeed been a pleasure to select a winner for your Beauty Contest. I might add that it was a rather difficult task as all of your contestants were so sweet. Thank you very much for asking me to help you.

Sincerely,

Grace Kelly

campusology

The favorite of MINER traditions was initiated in November of 1923. The day before, the M on the eastern slope of Mt. Franklin was surveyed, and on the morning of the 21st, students took an unofficial holiday and painted the M with lime.

Following the whitewashing of the M, visible for 60 miles from the air on a clear day, the Co-eds served a picnic lunch, and a new holiday was born: all adding up to one of the most colorful and interesting of TW traditions.

Except for slight additions, M Day has remained unchanged through the years. Frosh now do most of the work, supervised of course, by upper classmen; and the day is still an unofficial holiday.

Today, after the bean feed served on the campus, a Sadie Hawkins Day race is held, originating in 1939 and patterned after the race in Al Capp's comic strip, L'il Abner.

After the race, the El Paso Herald Post awards prizes for the first couple across the line, and for the best costumed Daisy Mae and L'il Abner.

REGISTRATION

The beginning of the end . . .

I want department . . .

Hope my section doesn't close before I get through.

The climax of a long day as seen by Ed Olive's expression.

The poor faculty was worn out by the end of the day.

ORANGE AND WHITE PARADE

To start off the football season with plenty of school spirit, the Student Association called the campus to attention with the Orange and White Parade. Individuals and organizations were encouraged to participate by the announcement that prizes would be awarded the best-decorated cars. On this day, orange and white was really the prevailing color on campus.

Co-eds got together and entered their own cars . . .

School organizations were not to be left out either. . .

First Place Winner—TW mascot.

Second place winner— isn't it a beauty?

The bonfire climaxed the Parade.

CLASSES

Just a blue Monday . . .

Just like real TV!

Easy as pie . . .

CLASSES

A biological sciences lab . . . you've got to be exact here.

Sir, you are on.

Just acting busy.

CAMPUS

Some waiting for the bus, others rushing to their next class . . .

Studying and relaxing in the S. U. B.

At the library—studying is never done.

Campus Citizens voting in a student election.

Then for the traditional coffee-break in the S. U. B. between classes.

LIFE

Just loafing, gabbing and showing-off (cars) before class-time.

How many miles around the campus from class to class?

Classes out—at last!

And, of course, being on campus means an occasional ticket; just ask Hector.

Solving that—problem—three heads are still better than one.

DORM

When students of all types, ideas and places get together—you have life in the dorm. Like the regular students, they sleep, eat, study and yes . . . play an occasional game of cards. Dorm students are unique in that they are away from home—but t's no easier, oh no!

There's nothing like getting together and studying . . . from books, too!

When things slow down—there are always the perennial card games.

Time out for callers!

LIFE

Ah, them books!—college life is too big a part of them.

Two of these "loafers" are engineers—can you guess who?

The guys also like an occasional game of cards; occasional, did you say?

The Tucson Trip, annual affair, went off with the traditional bang this year with over 200 students, the band and Gold Diggers attending. The Student Association obtained a special price for buses. Upon arrival at Tucson, students checked in at the Tucson Inn. They were first entertained by the Arizona University Student Council and later by watching the Miners defeat the Arizona Wildcats. The post-game dance saw activities come to an end—until next year.

With everyone in high spirits, the Tucson Trip gets off to a good start.

Enthusiastic Gold Diggers await moment of departure.

Recognize anyone?

THE ANNUAL SCHOOL TRIP

Talented Sue Dickerson exhibits.

Reading to the rescue.

No "de feet" for us.

No school trip interferes with Melly and Margo's beauty sleep.

Is it funny, Mr. Polk?

INAUGURATION

The faculty solemnly marched to the inauguration.

The faculty going into Magoffin Auditorium . . .

Tom Seeley of the Board of Regents and Dr. Dysart Holcombe.

Guest Speaker was Dr. Watrous H. Irons, President of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas.

THE MALE ANIMAL

A comedy about college professors, football players and a question concerning Communism.

"Here's what Grantland Rice said about me."

"Let's drink a toast to the big red team."

"Now watch this play."

"M"

DAY

An unofficial holiday since 1923, "M" Day is traditionally set aside as the day when the frosh are initiated into campus life by being allowed to paint the M on the east side of Mt. Franklin. Held during the Fall Semester, the repairing and whitewashing is conducted under the supervision of the sophomores and upperclassmen. The rest of the day's activities include a Bean feed prepared by the Co-Ed Council followed by the Sadie Hawkins Race.

It takes all hands to pass the bucket, freshmen, that is.

Buddies, ever to the rescue, assist thirst-stricken freshman; and slowly but surely, the chow line was stretching for miles around . . .

After the strenuous chore of painting the "M", oh, for those chili beans!

THE SADIE HAWKINS RACE

Following the bean feed, students congregate for the Sadie Hawkins Day race, patterned after the annual Dogpatch Race in Al Capp's Li'l Abner comic strip. Co-eds, dressed as Daisy Maes, pursue the campus versions of Li'l Abner and the couple to cross the finish line first is awarded a prize by the El Paso Herald Post. A prize is also awarded those having the best Li'l Abner and Daisy Mae costumes.

Oo-la, la! Poor Li'l Abner didn't have—didn't want a chance.

Runners up for the most authentic Daisy Mae: Rose Marie Graham, Barbara Pringle, Carolyn Neligan, Doris Webb and Gloria Martinez. On the right, John Knight is flexing his muscles while other Li'l Abner runners-up, Ken Meyer, Bill White, Ken McCall and Charles Hooten, look on.

Art Meyer, alias Marrying Sam, performs the sacred ritual for Daisy Mae Barbara and Li'l Abner Bill.

Her majesty, Frieda Howey.

Our marching cavalcade.

HOMECOMING

One of the biggest activities during the fall semester, Homecoming customarily held in November of each year, thunders in with the Bonfire and the Pajama Parade throughout town. # ...THE GAME AND THEN THE DANCE

Opening the half-time show were TWC prancers Joy Estes, Carolyn Keith, Rose Marie Graham, Jean Starr, and Gail Davis.

A huge crowd came to help fight the Homecoming Game.

TWC defeated, the crowd none-the-less lauded the players for their hard battle.

The dance then followed where Frieda Howey was crowned by Don Henderson and was attended by Duchesses Barbara Plasket, Martha Vela, Colette Cline and Carolyn Gumper.

CAREER DAY

New Year's Eve on Times Square would be a good description of the TWC campus on Career Day. Students from the local high schools and from the high schools of the surrounding areas attend lectures and join in panel discussions on various careers. This year ushered in the fifth annual citizenship and career conference.

Prominent businessmen and political leaders in the community helped to guide future careers.

THE CAMPUS CHEST DRIVE

To celebrate the successful campus chest campaign—a dance featuring Music by King.

Miss Gold Digger, Dorothy Reed, Mr. Miner, Mickey Bass and Best Prospector, Janice Bernard beam after triumphing over all competition.

Organizations had put up candidates, had worked hard to raise funds for them and—presto! the $2000 mark was hit.

This was to a slow tempo . . .

Receiving military students and their dates are Lt. Colonel George Ford, Mrs. Alfrey, and Colonel John Alfrey.

R. O. T. C. students must have their night too, and they do when Military Ball night rolls around. Cadets don their uniforms and are treated, together with their dates, to a dance complete with refreshments. Student officers get a chance to show off their rank and to hobnob with the big heads. And finally the Military Queen is crowned.

From 48 entries to 12 (Gloria Angus not pictured)...

The T. W. C. Trio, Marifred Snelson, Sandra Ogden, Ebba Brown provided intermission entertainment. . .

THE BEAUTY CONTEST

And finally, to the four finalists, Elaine Abbot, Dorothy Reed, Jo Beth Stevens and Kay Hornaday; and TWC's most beautiful girl, Jane Grubb.

TOM SAWYER

TOM SAWYER was the annual College Player Production for the school children of El Paso. It was the first student directed major production in the history of the college.

"Tom, get this fence white-washed today!"

"Becky, see what I wrote on my slate about you."

"Huck, I'll trade you my tooth for that dead cat!"

"Tom Sawyer, you may stay in during the recess period."

CO-ED BALL

This time, Co-eds make the dates, pay expenses, send flowers, call for their boy friends, and do the tagging. Usually the last affair before the Christmas Holidays, the Ball, sponsored by the Co-Ed Council, is one of the most widely-attended school functions.

Shirley Maurey crowns His Majesty, Co-Ed King, Mickey Bass.

The dance was a huge success.

The royal court: Dukes Bill Mischen, Enrique Mata, King Mickey Bass, Fenton Alley, Schuler Nelson.

THE SNOW FIESTA

Helen, Janette, McFadden, and two other males bravely pose in their ice skates.

Well, what do you expect? This is the first time I've ever ice-skated.

How do you hold one of these deals?

Now What?

And away I go!!

To escape the sunny El Paso weather, TWC students "run off" to Cloudcroft or Ruidoso between the Fall and Spring Semesters each year. Students meet at the ski run during the day to enjoy sledding, tobogganing, skiing and snowball fights. Several contests are held and winners proclaimed. Upon the sun's setting, the dance begins, climaxed by the crowning of the Texas Western Snow Queen and the announcement of her two duchesses.

These hearty boys made a safe landing...

Gang way! We're coming through . . .

Hey, someone, how do you stop this thing?

MORE SHOTS OF

AT THE LODGE...

Mary Ellen Mapula and Sam Meraz, after a turn in the skating rink, get ready to return to the Lodge.

Students take time out from dancing for a cozy chat.

The Lodge was jammed by snow bound students.

DESIRE UNDER THE ELMS

An intimate staging of the famous O'Neil tragedy of New England farm life, featuring several guest performers.

"I'd like to own my own place up thar."

"I bet right then and thar he knew plumb well whar he was 'a goin'."

"You're soft-headed, like your Ma."

The Religion in Life Week Schedule was much publicized. . .

RELIGION IN LIFE WEEK

The second annual Religious Emphasis Week was ushered in with speeches by religious leaders, informal discussions and personal conferences. Catholic, Jewish, and Protestant authorities were given opportunity to encourage the student in his spiritual quest.

Among the committee members who helped make Religious Emphasis Week meaningful for all were Jay Gillespie and Charles Frederick.

Bobby Brown and Shirley Brown were also among the students who did their share.

Gathered here are the Westside wheels—meeting?

Mr. Billings "enjoyed" a few whacks.

ST. PAT'S DAY

It all began when TW was the famous College of Mines. And the tradition of initiating freshman engineers into the order of St. Pat, patron saint of engineers, on March 17 continues to this day. The Westsides journey to Orogrande for an all-day picnic, partake of a bean-feed and end it all with the Hardluck Dance where the best beards in the Beard Growing Contest are judged.

Yes, girl engineers too!

Poor freshman Cain . . .

ALL T. W. C. DAY

Swimming champ Dick Pierce claims his prize.

Beaming Elaine Abbot also claims hers— the Miss TWC cup; then to exchange your money for the Spring Fiesta.

There were all sorts of booths—step right up, folks!

From a bathing beauty contest on May, 1946, ALL TWC DAY has blossomed out to include a senior-faculty softball game, a gymkhana, swimming contests, installation of the incoming Student Council and also now, the annual Spring Fiesta which climaxes the day's events. Highlight of the day is the annual bathing beauty revue at which "Miss Texas Western" is selected from entries made by campus social organizations.

You could have gotten lost in the crowd.

Some were getting hitched while poor Carolyn was getting doused—the trick was to put out the cig with a watergun.

Activities were climaxed by the dance—anything wrong, Buster?

THE SENIOR PROM

Finally, Graduation was here. Seniors had asked their best girls and even the underclassmen were ready for the Senior Prom. For a wonderful last dance, the Tommy Dorsey Band was brought down by the Student Association.

Tommy Dorsey lets loose with his melodious trombone.

Brother Jimmy Dorsey put in his two cents worth too.

What with the singer and all—not another dance like it.

SUMMER FUN

Frank and Pete pose with their dates in front of the bathhouse.

THE INNOCENTS

A tense psychological drama adopted from the world famous ghost story THE TURN OF THE SCREW.

"There's only one thing that matters—the children mustn't be frightened!"

"I don't like the habits of this house."

"He has red hair—very red, close and curling, and a long pale face."

SEVENTEEN

A Musical Comedy by Booth Tarkington concerning the growing pains of exhuberant Willie Baxter.

"You've ruined my life, that's all! I got nothing to live for!"

Oo-oo-oo, what you do to me!

"If we only could stop the old town clock."

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING

BY SHAKESPEARE

Shakespeare's sparkling story of the battle of the sexes. Staged in a modified Elizabethan manner.

"But are you sure that Benedick loves Beatrice so entirely?"

"Adieu. Be vigilant, I beseech you."

"You come hither, my lord, to marry this lady?"

THE SUMMER FORMAL

All set! the spectators were anxious and waiting...

The contestants were beaming, along with runners-up Florence Silva, Carolyn Gumper, Marion Hegsted and Anita Goodrich . . .

And Punky Hatfield was going—gone!

The reigning Summer School Queen of 1955, her majesty Joy Dee Hatchett.

g r e e k s

Greek contributions to student life began as early as 1919 when a few engineers organized the Alpha Phi Omega fraternity.

Then, as today, the fraternity gave students opportunities for friendships, associations, and social activity they otherwise would not have had.

Since 1919 many Greek letter societies have appeared on campus, some disappearing and some remaining to the present day.

 Row 2: Carolyn Gumper, Irma Joyner, Lavon Hartrick.

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

The Panhellenic Council pledges to maintain a high plane of fraternity life and inter-fraternity relations, the furtherance of sound scholarship, co-operation with administrative officials to maintain high social standards, compliance with rules of rushing, pledging, and initiation. Members of the Council are the president and rush chairman from each sorority.

Row 1: Clyde Dunn, Bob Nicholson, Jim Peak, Michael Bass.

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Inter-Fraternity Council promotes co-operation and understanding among the fraternities, endeavors to build the fraternity system, and to insure co-operation between the college and the fraternities. Two active members of each fraternity are representatives to the Inter-Fraternity Council.

CHI OMEGA

The Rho Delta chapter of Chi Omega was installed on the campus in June of 1939. Each year a social and civic award is given to an outstanding senior woman. The sorority holds vesper services on Palm Sunday and Christmas. Chi Omega colors are cardinal and straw. The flower is the white carnation.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

Only students majoring in geology or engineering who have attained sophomore standing are eligible for membership in Alpha Phi Omega, the oldest Greek letter fraternity on the campus. APO was organized by six engineering students in 1919, when TWC was Texas College of Mines. By choice the fraternity is not affiliated with a national organization; members direct their own policies. Race, color, or creed does not influence invitation to APO.

Organizations

Thirty years ago, when the M Club was organized for men lettering in any varsity sport, there were few organizations on campus, and few projects and activities in which to enlist students.

This picture from the 1925 Flowsheet shows the original M Club.

Although the M club is one of the few to survive from the earlier days of the college, today there are organizations to promote student activity and interest in every phase of college life: honorary, professional, and social.

Besides having their individual interests and activities together, these organizations sponsor projects of collegiate and community benefit.

DON'T PASS THE BUCK GIVE IT!

One of the bigger varsity projects each year is the Campus Chest, made in cooperation with the nation wide Community Chest Drive in the fall.

Organizations sponsor candidates for Mr. Miner and Miss Golddigger, who are elected by the amount of contributions made in their name.

Each year the drive is initiated with a rally in Magoffin Auditorium. The drive slogan written across the stage shows some of the work that goes into these yearly projects.

The Pre-Med Club is composed of students who are interested in the biological sciences. The programs at the bi-monthly meetings are alternated between speakers of note and movies concerned with the biological sciences or the field of medicine. The group takes an active part in campus activities. Among other things, it enters a float in the Homecoming Parade, which in 1953 placed first in the Non-Greek Division. A Pre-Med Club Banquet is held annually.

The Psychology Club was formed on the TWC campus in May 1947. The purpose of the organization is to give psych majors and minors a wider experience in the field of psychology, and to study case histories and hypnotism. Plans have been made to affiliate with Psi Chi, National Honorary Psychology Club in the Spring of 1956.

RODEO CLUB

OFFICERS

President: Lee Arthur
 Vice-President: P J. Wright
 Secretary: Fanelle Boney

The Rodeo Club emphasizes the "Western" in Texas Western. This group enters collegiate rodeos and performs in the rodeo arena which they built on campus. On Western Day they appear in western dress and encourage the rest of the student body to do the same. The group meets regularly for social activities, such as picnics, moonlight rides, movies, and western dancing.

OFFICERS

In September of 1953, the Methodist students formed the Wesley Foundation, the local organization of the world-wide Methodist Student Movement. In the spring of 1956 it was re-organized. Plans are being made to have a Wesley House and a full-time director of religious education.

In the early days of the college, summer brought a thirty day sorti to the field for the future mining engineer. The MINERS housed their equipment in field tents while they learned operations first hand.

The Santa Juliana Mine, at Sabinal, Mexico, is typical of those early day operations. The picture shows a typical student-sponsor group with several of the college officials of those years.

Several years after this photograph was taken, this type trip was abandoned, and the work transferred as much as possible to the classroom and laboratory.

Widened in scope, with degrees given in electrical, civil, and mining engineering, laboratories today cover broad fields of engineering problems.

Scale models of engineering works are made by civil engineering students to obtain practice in planning, reading, blue prints, and construction details.

Here students are putting the finishing touches on a model of a street intersection.

m i l i t a r y

Survival of two world wars has brought Texas Western into a close association with military life.

Over the years Armed Services Personnel have attended off duty classes on campus, and at times a few have been released in order to take special classes or to complete degrees.

At one time a detachment of company size was assigned to the college to enable trainees to take specialized courses in conjunction with their military training.

The ROTC is relatively new to Texas Western. Not until July, 1948, was a unit assigned here with a staff of two officers, and three enlisted men to train college students in military sciences to qualify them for commissions as Reserve Officers in the artillery branch of the army.

Today with four officers and seven enlisted men permanently assigned, instruction covers all the basic branches in a General Military Science program, giving the successful student five options, the first two of which must be line outfits, under which to seek a commission.

DISTINGUISHED MILITARY STUDENTS

Distinguished Military Students are senior ROTC students who have been selected by the President of the college and the professor of Military Science and Tactics. They must (1) possess outstanding qualities of leadership, high moral character, and definite aptitude for the military service (2) have attained an academic standing in the upper half of their class or else in the upper ten percent of their class in military subjects (3) have demonstrated leadership ability through their achievement in recognized campus activities.

The story of athletics is as old as the college itself, originating as early as 1914 when the School of Mines opened at Ft. Bliss. "Cap" John Kidd, professor and coach, paid for the uniforms of the first Miners' football team.

In 42 years of college history, 1918 was the only year that there were no football games for the Miners. On November 9, 1929 the Miners played and won their first Homecoming game, opening one of the biggest events of Texas Western's fall semester.

The Football Royalty being presented.

Some 14,000 fans went home slightly delirious from watching Texas Western's 27 to 27 tie with the highly favored Red Raiders of Texas Tech. Jesse Whittenton connected on two tremendous passes in the final period to speedy Don Maynard who outraced the defense once for a long gain and once for a touchdown. Rusty Rutledge was the top Miner rusher as he gained 93 yards in six tries.

Texas Western's hard charging forward wall led by guards Charlie Wilcox and Jim Johnson, end John Howle and tackles Louis Singleton and Ken George held Art Lupino and friends to 73 yards rushing. Few fans could recall when Arizona was so completely outclassed. Lupino was the top ground gainer in the nation in 1955, but he picked up only 40 yards against T. W.

What won't the cheerleaders do for publicity?

Texas Western drove to a three touchdown lead, but could not hold onto its advantage. A. T. W. lineman, trying to block a field goal attempt, deflected the ball just enough for it to clear the cross bar giving the Cowboys their victory. Whittenton scored on an eight yard run and a one yard plunge. Also scoring for T. W. was Bob Forrest on a 2 yard dive. Whittenton converted twice and Berman Corbell once. The game was T. W.'s first loss of the season and put a crimp in the Miner's hopes for winning the Border Conference Championship.

Texas Western had another fourth quarter scoring explosion; this time for four 6 pointers over a hustling Aggie eleven. Although the passing of Jesse Whittenton and the running of Bob Forrest, Maynard, Tevis and Harmon proved too much offensively for the "Men from Mesilla", the visitors furnished the games top performer, Joe Kelly, of the Aggies, who drew a large round of applause when he left the game in the fourth quarter after being injured for the third time in the game. Texas Western's hard charging line held the Aggie runners in check except for Kelly, who although limping for three periods, gained 121 yards in 28 carries.

During the half!

The Wichita Wheat Shockers were shaken by a three touchdown outburst in the final quarter as Texas Western defeated the Kansans 28 to 12. Wichita jumped off to a 12 to 0 lead in the first quarter, but could not fight off the Miners determined scoring efforts late in the game. Ed Bailey, Hugh Harmon and Kenneth George led the ball hawking Texans as the Miners grabbed six Shock-er fumbles.

T.W.C. GOLF TEAM

Pat Donohue; Harrison Brock; Carlos Zuloaga, Jesse Whittenton; and Dr. A. N. Foster, Coach.

Varsity golf has not yet reached the stage where it is really considered one of the major sports at Texas Western. Every year, however, Coach Neil Foster finds many willing, enthusiastic players ready and anxious to compete in this most interesting sport. 56

TWC TENNIS TEAM

Severo Garcia; Bobby Gallardo; Robert Jimenez; David Clark; Frank Vargas; Henry Masterson; and Arthur Napoles and Dr. W. H. Ball, coach.

NOT PRESENT: Leonardo Gallardo, Alexander Stewart; Ronald New; and Bobby Lehmann.

Although they have yet to win a conference championship the Texas Western Varsity Tennis Squad almost every year ends up in the finals at the conference meet. Coach W. H. Ball believes this may be the year for a Texas Western championship.

Student body

No class to graduate, an enrollment of only 27 students, lectures in a building vacated by the El Paso Military Institute almost seven miles from downtown El Paso - - - such was that opening year in 1914-15.

This Junior class of 1922 shows the progress of the college, then solely an engineering school. Arts and Sciences were to come in the 1930's. St. Pat's, the Hard Luck Dance, and the beard growing contests were well established customs by this time.

With the largest student body in the history of the college; almost 300 graduating seniors are enrolled for their final semester at Texas Western, several times the enrollment of those first few years. From the freshman beanie to the long walk across the graduating platform - - - these are our friends, classmates, officers, and favorites, - - - so much a part of us during the four years of our college life.

advertising

Through the following pages is written the story of Texas Western and its supporters . . . people and organizations who sponsored the Prospector when it became a newspaper in 1919 and who have made possible the publication of the Flowsheet since 1922.

Because of them the games have been better, the parades bigger, and the school year fuller.

Your COLLEGE BOOKSTORE is doing its best to give you effective and efficient service with the limited facilities available. We hope, with the expanded SUB, to have one of the most beautiful and modern stores in the Southwest available to you by this time next year. Good luck to you Seniors!

These are the businesses and friends who have helped make big events what they are today: Homecoming, M-Day, the Sun Bowl; and who have made it possible for such departments as Radio, Television and Journalism to be more complete.

From small ads to full page spreads, line drawings to Texas Western queens, this is El Paso and Texas Western, growing together. Let's support them as they have supported us.

A man or woman and even a business firm is often known by the company it keeps.

Dickshire of El Paso, distributor of Coors, is proud of the role which it has played in the development of the El Paso Southwest. Good neighbors most of the time distribute good products.

Dickshire is proud of its participation in the Pan-American Road Race, the Sun Carnival Parade, and numerous other community and civic affairs.
