Historical Sketch

David Long Muzquiz (1886 – 1953) was born in Muzquiz, Coahuila, Mexico. According to the twelfth child, Josefina Long Hamby (1927 – 2006), he was a wealthy rancher who funded Pancho Villa's revolution against the Mexican government. In return, Villa would provide protection of Muzquiz's goods that were sent by railroad.

The following, "Recuerdos de Villa", is David Muzquiz's personal experiences with Pancho Villa. This memoir was dictated to and then transcribed by David's daughter, Josefina, circa 1952.
