Biography

Dale L. Walker (1935 – 2015), an author and editor, was born in Decatur, Illinois. He served in the U.S. Navy from 1955 to 1959 and began working as a freelance writer in 1960. After graduating from Texas Western College with a degree in journalism in 1962, he worked as a reporter. In 1966, Walker began a long career with Texas Western College (later the University of Texas at El Paso), where he was the director of the News and Information Office from 1966 to 1993. He also directed Texas Western Press and served as president of the Western Writers of America from 1992 to 1994. The Western Writers of America awarded him the Spur Award for Best Western Short Nonfiction in 2002.

Walker was a major donor of books to the University of Texas at El Paso Library. His gifts included books for the S.L.A. Marshall Military History Collection, the Western Fiction Collection, and many first edition and rare books to Special Collections, including books about journalism history, the Lewis and Clark Expedition, Victorian England, and Jack London. Walker was particularly interested in Jack London. He donated his Jack London book collection to the UTEP Library and also was responsible for Special Collections receiving two collections related to the Lafayette Escadrille – the Edward Hinkle papers and the Ted Parsons papers.

Series Description or Arrangement
