Sun Bowl Security Organized

A new security force went to work this week at Texas Western, as Miner fans prepared for Saturday's game with the New Mexico State Aggies. Due to the high degree of public pressure to have a security force at the game, the Campus Police Chief William P. Jones, with the help of Campus Police, has organized an equipped security guard made up of domesticated miners, members of the Student Activities Board, and members of the fraternities here on the campus. Al Hanson, a member of the Campus Police force, is handling this operation.

The crew began operations last Saturday to supplement the regular forces of Campus Police and Security Guards and will continue until after the ball game tomorrow, working in eight-man shifts from 6 p.m. until 2 a.m.

Chief Jones said, "The reason that our force has been organized into operation was because of the tremendous amount of vandalism that has occurred in previous years." When asked if he expected any problems this year, he replied, "It's a safe bet that we will be enforcing a more protective spirit between the two schools."
The Texas Western Rifle Team has its sights aimed at topping its 64-65 season record, one of the most impressive shooting seasons the College has witnessed in the ten years the squad has been on Campus.

Divided into the Gold (varsity) and White Teams (junior varsity), the shooters fired in over 30 matches, divided into the Gold (varsity) and White Teams (junior varsity), the shooters fired in over 30 matches, and the majority of them linemen. For their third meet, the improving TWC marksmen traveled to San Antonio for the Fiesta Invitational Rifle Match, and they swept the tournament, taking 2nd and 3rd places respectively by the White and Gold teams.

It is interesting to note that George will be competing against his dad, who fires for Fort Bliss, the team's biggest competitor. He appeared as guest speaker at the required 50 foot firing line. His total offense to 1,249 season. in 169 plays. Everyone but two of last year's championship teams are returning to practice, and a crop of new freshmen shooters looks as if they could take on Annie Oakley with a sling shot.

Bobby Dobbs' Orangemen are pushing for their second win of the season tomorrow night when they host the University of New Mexico Lobos in the Sun Bowl. Miner quarterback Billy Stevens, who calmly passed the pigskin last week for a new TWC record of 206 yards, will face Stan Quintana, the gifted quarterback who did it all for the Lobos last season.

Quintana will head up a New Mexico attack this year which, if patterned after the 1964 team—will rely mainly on a hard-nosed ground attack. New Mexico lost a total of 16 players through graduation, the majority of them linemen, a fact which Coach Dobbs is not too unhappy about. Chief losses include all-conference guard Jack Abenchon, Wayne Tyrdik, a tackle, and Gary Yens, who calmly passed the pigskin last week for a new TWC record of 206 yards.

Functional And Cultural Aspects Of Campus Bookstore Examined

A college bookstore may be evaluated on at least two counts: functional and cultural. The following paragraphs propose to consider the first of each.

At Texas Western College, the bookstore is an important part of student life, meeting the needs of students for books, supplies, and other products. The store is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, and from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturdays, providing a convenient and accessible resource for students.

In addition to the traditional bookstore services, the store offers a range of cultural and educational opportunities. The bookstore hosts regular events, such as author readings, book signings, and workshops, providing a platform for local artists, writers, and cultural figures. The bookstore also collaborates with the local community, hosting events that celebrate diverse cultures and promote intellectual exchange.

On this matter, Dr. Milton Leech, vice-president of the college, was contacted for comment. “An expansion of the Student Union Building is in the planning process now,” he said.

“We (the administration) have talked with the consulting architects of the University of Texas system and will now wait until the final recommendations of the planning committee for the space we need and can afford. We must have these recommendations before we can do other talking,” said the architect.

Dr. Leech said, “When we get the figures together another top decision will be necessary, we will ask for plan approval of Repairs.” The bookstore would enjoy appropriate expansion and working with the key priorities of the project.

John D. Jones, store manager, was contacted for comment. The store is under management and it is an undertaking to keep the books in good condition. The store is not answering criticisms and complaints against inadequate fulfillment and to other campus activities because some students seem to think they are a waste of time.

This year it is time for a change. TWC sorely needs a revitalization of school spirit and a return of student loyalty.

The college has improved its activities calendar, and many fine events are programmed for this year. It has strengthened its faculty and now offers much to the new student as well as the old.

Vital campus spirit is equally essential to growth but it must arise from the students. The student body lives (and dies) campus spirit. Texas Western has the potential to become a model of college growth in this country, but for a healthy growing, every individual must generate unembodied enthusiasm. So far, indications of student enthusiasm have been disappointing.

Evidence of school apathy was apparent at last week’s pre-New Mexico pep rally with less than forty students in attendance. It is hoped that such a trend will be eliminated.

Revitalization Of TWC Spirit, Loyalty Needed

“Hey! Are you going to the game tomorrow night?”

“Are you kidding? Why waste time when you know they are going to lose again?”

This year the Miner football team is doing well as their New Mexico pep rally with less than 40 students in attendance. It is hoped that such a trend will be eliminated.

It is necessary to have student enthusiasm to keep the school spirit alive. The college spirit is not only important to the students, but it is also essential for the growth of the college.

Miners Maul UNM, 35-14
With Air Bombardment

By BUCHE FREEMAN
Coach Bobby Dobbs Texas Western Miners rallied up their second win of the season when their team rolled and stomped the University of New Mexico Lobos 35-14, in University Stadium at Albuquerque last Saturday night.

The Miners' record breaking sophomore quarterback, Billy Stevens, passed the Orangemen to all five of the Texas Western touchdowns. Stevens set an NCAA record last week against North Texas State with 500 passing yards, added an additional 297 yards on the ground for 797 yards in both classics.

The first touchdown of the ball-game was made by the New Mexico Lobos after Harvey Bratcher intercepted a Billy Stevens pass on the TWC's 46 and returned the pigskin back to the Miners' 6. On the first play from scrimmage for the Lobos, quarterback Stan Quinants rolled around right and scored for the first score of the game. Williams kicked the extra point to give the Lobos a 7-0 lead. Stevens, refusing to let the pass interception rattle him, continued to play calm and collected ball against the hard-charging Lobos defense. On a series of plays starting from the Lobos' 27, Stevens completed four passes to move the ball to the New Mexico 14. On the second quarter of the game, the Orangemen moved the ball to the 14, and passed Stevens the additional space he needed for his deadly passing. Stevens did the deadly deed on the first pass to his deadly receiver, Joe Olivas who completed 16 of 23 passes for 239 yards for a total of 797 yards.

The Miners' second touchdown came in the second quarter after the Orangemen moved the ball from their own 6 in a combination of running and passing plays. cooker was the key player to the Miners' offense who ran to the 46 where Stevens spotted one of his favorite targets of the evening, Chuck Hughes. Hughes took careful aim, fired, and connected. Hughes ran the rest and carried the ball over the goal for the second TWC touchdown. Cook came back and kicked the extra point giving the Miners a lead of 14-7.

The Lobos, upset and a little shaken by the deadly passing of the Miners, decided to try even harder to stop the ball. They started a 73-yard drive with fullback Carl Jackson at the helm and quarterback Quintana's slashing and driving first from one side to the other on the Lobos' 4, the Miners' 4 where Jackson, taking a pitch from Quintana, carried the ball over the New Mexico second and final touchdown of the evening. Williams returned and added the extra point to tie up the score 14-14 for the remainder of the first half. After only 2 minutes and 60 seconds of the third quarter had gone by, and the second time the

Unbeaten Orange Aggs

Bobby Dobbs' undefeated aerial bombers play host to New Mexico State's unbeaten Aggies in the Sun Bowl tomorrow night. Bobby's Bombers will be passing for their third win of the season after trouncing the University of New Mexico 35-14 last week.

New Mexico State, meanwhile, has racked up two victories over Southland Conference's New Orleans Privateers and Arlington State.LAST WEEK the Aggies nipped Lamar Tech 28-14 and two weeks ago slapped Arlington 27-10.

New Mexico State has 26 intercaren back from last year, which includes All-America candidate Will Hughes (6-244) at right tackle. Coach Warren Wrenn recruited 6 junior transfers and brought 13 sophomores up from last year's freshmen. The quarterback position is filled by sophomore, Ral Olivas, who completed 14 of 25 passes for 417 yards and six TD's in two football games last year. Olivas is a native El Pasoan and played high school ball at Cathedral.

The entire backfield, minus Rick Norman, the signal caller, is back from last year's 6-4 team. The Aggies have Hartwell Meunese, the top receiver in '64, fullback Bill Price, and Jim Boll, returning from last year.

The offensive wall has returning tackle Gene "No Mo" Modzelewski (225 lbs.) and guard Stan Johnson (310 lbs.) both in their third year as starters plus Eugene Williams and Roy Chapa, the second and third best receivers last year.

The Orange Men hope to avenge last year's 13-7 loss to the Aggies which came with 45 seconds to go on a Rick Norman-to-Hartwell Meunese pass. The series between the two schools date back to 1914 with Texas Western having won 26, lost 17, and tying 2 ties in the 42 games played.

Miners had possession of the ball, the Orangemen scored on a Stevens to Hughes pass which was good for 31 yards. Cook came back in the game and kicked his third extra point.

The Miners still weren't satisfied, so Stevens ward to bed and took to the air lanes again, this time to engineer a Wallace for his second touchdown and to close out the scoring. Cook returned and added the finishing touches to the score with his fifth straight extra point of the game, tying the score 35-14, for the second victory of the season for the Texas Western Miners.

Hughes Ties TW Record

You can date for less in Lee Leens.

(With the authority of the Leen-look, you can convince her that going out...is out.)

Slide into a pair of Lee Leens. Take along your hang-up. You'll have a captive audience when she sees you in those low-riding, hip-hugging Leens. (They really do something for your shoulders.) Those arrow-narrow legs give you dash the double-takers, and those gig-along pockets show you're a stickler for detail. Great way to date; no pain in the wallet. But, you need the authority of Lee Leens to get away with it. Shown, Lee Leens in Lascit Stretch Denim, a blend of 75% cotton and 25% nylon. Sanforized. In Wheat, Faded Blue, Loden and Blue Denim. $6.98. Other Leens from $4.98 to $6.98.
