TW Has Unique Student In Need

By JOHN RICHARDS

Courtney Neely, former freshman football and basketball player at TWC, is in the hospital. Some students think even though he is a citizen of the United States, this is the first year he has lived in this country. Born in Caracas, Venezuela, of an American father and for one year. His father, a pilot for Pan American Airways, then transferred to San Juan, Puerto Rico, where Neely was born. When his father returned in 1956, "I started to learn my first Spanish," Neely said. "We lived in San Juan for a year, then they continued, "and Puerto Rico, being a territory of the United States, this was really the closest thing to home until now."

LIVES IN LEBANON

A trip to Beirut, Lebanon. Upon meeting, Neely said, "the age of 10, was put into a French school. It was difficult at first," Neely said, "but I believe that we have a young person to pick up a foreign language. I had learned French and Arabic. Most of my friends there were Arabs," he continued, "and they realize vividly exploring all the Roman ruins that had been by the Roman conquerors."

Neely had also left an impact on Lebanon, he said, "he knew many rules and other things to remember that people that they had been there. All of the children were interested in me."

INTERESTS IN SPORTS

His father was then transferred to London, England, promptly packed the car and made a three-week vacation. "It was a vacation," Neely said, "and to explore all the countries we passed through." Some of the countries they went through included Belgium, France, Germany, Italy, Luxembourg, Greece, Hungary, Austria and several others. Neely was a member of our trip, which was the road and our car break down. Neely suffered a number of times. The Neelys settled in Frankfurt, Germany, and this is where Neely graduated from Fraunhofer High School. He went to my first American school and that is why I made it a welcome one."

He had always wanted to go to college in Texas, as his father was originally from Brownwood. He decided on TWC because he had relatives in San Antonio, his cousin in being Mrs. Eleanor Brown, his uncle and his cousin in being Mrs. Eleanor Duke, associate professor of biological Sciences at TWC.

The rest of Courtney's family have new many must to West Berlin, and he visits his parents and his relatives whenever he gets a chance to visit.

Neely is majoring in math and hopes to enter a pilot training school upon graduation. He is still traveling and he doesn't have the desire to be in this country too long. But when he does eventually settle down, he plans on it will be in the United States.

Police Use New Traffic Devices

Steps are now being employed by the Campus Police to establish a more firm regard for regulations involving the use parked on Campus, Chief W. P. Jones said this week.

Chief Jones said he had purchased a chart of the country's complete car registration, and that this list would enable him to contact the owner of the car in the event that a ticket was to be issued. The "Rhino" will force violators to go to the Campus Police Office to have their vehicle registered, he said. No student who had not registered will be permitted to drive. Chief Jones also secured "Rhino," a locked license which was transferred to the wheel of the car will not allow the car to move. Positions Taught In Spring Training

Work on basic fundamentals — blocking and tackling in particular — will occupy only five of the 20 sessions in spring training drills this year, head football coach Bobby Dobbs said, as player specialization will be given much more attention.

"We had to spend all the sessions last year for basic fundamentals," Dobbs said.

"This year we know the personnel better and will have more time to teach the players their position.

Several goals that Coach Dobbs and his staff — Cliff Speegle, Bill Michael, Y. C. McNease, and Harvey Griffin — have expressed include:

- Building depth at quarterback for Billy Stevens, the Miners’ whip lash who broke scores of school records last year and several NCAA marks as well.
- Formulating enough halfback strength to take some of the offensive load off the passing game.
- Rebuilding the defensive secondary.

During the 1965 football season, Stevens played the latter part of the schedule with a broken left hand, a hip pointer, a broken rib, and cartilage who tip the scales at over 200 pounds. The biggest are:

- 275-pound Thurman Randle (6-4, 260-pound Walter Olivieri (6-0) and 260-pound Ole Hansen (6-0)."}

A Senator's Look At Abject Conditions In Student Senate

The Student Senate has been considered by the executive branch, i.e. the President of the University, as the legitimizing instrument under its direct control. Senators are regarded as ornamental devices that are used by the presidency to spread the legislation and appointments throughout the campus.

In the name of efficiency the Senate has been expanded, making procedures in order to expedite matters and thus not keep its master waiting. However, the Senate is not only a policy-making body but is also an institution that provides opportunities for the dissenters. It gives the dissenters a platform to voice their opinions, it no longer is a case of Spring Fever. It is a severe case of immaturity.

Because of the rash of pro and anti-Viet Nam demonstrations in the past few months, the old argument of the right of all Americans to freedom of speech seems to be overruled. It obviously needs repeating again to the groups of TWC students who want to take it upon themselves to deny control of freedom of speech on this Campus.

Physically opposing dissenting groups serves no useful purpose. It presents a bad image of the College to the people of the community, it provides plenty of free publicity for the dissenters and it gives the dissenters a chance to become "martyrs." There are more effective and responsible ways of opposing policies of a group. Debates, lectures, soapbox speaking, writing letters to the editor are all more positive ways of expressing dissatisfaction with a group's opinions.

In this case, cut out the egg throwing, material scattering, table dumping and jeering tactics. As one New Mexican newspaper commented on the TWC situation, "Student major from Julesburg, Colorado and even anti-Viet Nam professors must grow up, too."

Symphonic Band To Hold Final Campus Concert

The final formal concert on Campus by the TWC Symphonic Band will feature a guest conductor from New Mexico, a student soloist from Colorado, and a drum duet by graduates of El Paso high schools who are majoring in music here.

Dr. Olav E. Eidsb, head of the Departmen of Music, said Prof. Harold Blyler has done an outstanding job with the band which has had the largest enrollment in the history of the College. Dr. Eidsb said the concert Sunday April 15 is being presented in Mageffin Auditorium is open to the public with no charge for admission.

The guest conductor will be Gregg Randall, band director of Las Cruces Senior High School who will conduct "Festive Overture" by Dmitri Shostakovich and "Concerto Italiano" by Dmitri Kabalesovsky.

Richard Landreth, a junior music major from Julesburg, Colorado, will be featured as soloist for "Horn Concerto No. 2" by Mozart. Landreth is the principal of the French horn section in both the 117member band and the college orchestra.

When there were no questions, there was name calling. Loving the glory of flag and country, the mob became verbally and physically a man. To the President of the Senate, the citizens was standing on his right to use free speech. But this was not the beginning, the President he had taken the literature from the group which was distributing it without reading it or even seeing it and tossed it into the trash can. Contained in the literature were several copies of the Congressional record.

Later one student remarked that if the material in the Congressional record displeased him he saw no reason why he should be forced to bear the material and stomp on it. It was fit for nothing else. What about The Constitution of the Bill Of Rights?

TO THE EDITOR:

Today our school was disgraceful. If I find hard to believe that at an institution of higher learning the principles of tolerance and freedom of speech have not yet been learned. I am referring to the student reaction to the information table set up by the Student Action Committee.

To reiterate the phrases connected with the rights of individuals to state their opinions seems unnecessary. If an individual has not learned that in America everyone has the right, as a citizen and as a human being, to state an opinion then they do not belong in college. The intolerance, the ignorance, and the mob violence shown today is enough to raise questions as to the quality of the students in Texas Western College and the quality of the instruction on the Bill of Rights which these students have received.

I believe the student body owns the Student Action Committee an apology. I apologize on behalf of my fellow students too ignorant to know that in America we have freedom of speech. Recently our school was honored with being No. 1. Today I am forced to wonder if some of the money spent on winning this national basketball title might not have been better spent teaching college students the meaning of the Bill of Rights.

DO YOU HAVE WHAT IT TAKES TO BE A LEADER?*

*If you do, don’t settle for less.

If you will complete your first two years of college this spring and have not had ROTC training, you now have a special opportunity to earn an Army officer's commission in the next two years. You can qualify to fulfill your military obligation as an officer if you study for a college degree in a field of your choice.

Through a new two-year Army ROTC program you will receive leadership training and experience that will be valuable assets for the rest of your life, in either a military or a civilian career. You will receive an allowance of $40 each month during your Junior and Senior years. If you desire, you may request postponement of your military service while you complete your degree.

Most large business and industrial firms prefer the college graduate who has been trained and commissioned as an officer—who has the ability to organize, motivate and lead others—and who has had experience in accepting responsibilities beyond his years.

You owe it to yourself to investigate this important opportunity. For complete information on the new two-year Army ROTC program see the Professor of Military Science on campus.
Dr. Bailey Receives Guggenheim Grant
