Karen Hamilton took first place individual honors and the ROTC Sponsors captured second place group honors in drill competitions held in Tempe March 30. A 19-year-old freshman elementary education major, Miss Hamilton competed with three other girls from UCLA, Arizona State University, and New Mexico State to win her trophy. Her team included Winona B. Thompson, a junior English major, and Mary Rabin, a junior business major.

The sponsors competed as a group in a close precision drill against respective women's drill teams from the same schools, and won a second place trophy. Under Drum Major Virginia (Gee Bee) Schiller, the sponsors executed different drill movements under the close scrutiny of 19 judges, members of the U.S. Army.

In the allotted time of 4-4½ minutes, the sponsors entered both in the "regular" and "trick" drill competition. The trophies were given out at an awards banquet that evening at the Ramada Inn, the site of the drill competition.

"Fantasy Is Theme For Carnival"

The Carnival, which includes booths and activities, will be financed by the Student Association and partially by the Student Association's fund. The Senior Excellence Fund was started last year. Instead of purchasing a bench or some other such Senior Gift among them, seniors are asked to donate their property taxes to the Student Excellence Fund.

Most of this money is used for the Library and all books purchased with the money "constitutes a plaque telling that the book is part of the Senior Gift from the particular graduating class."

Chairmen of the Carnival are Nancy Patterson and Joe Mayes.

CONTROVERSIAL FILM

Semester Marks
Cripple Teams

By BOB JOHNSON

No single disaster can cause an otherwise intelligent, cool-headed mentor more woe than the occurrence of fall semester grades. For example, with one stroke of the pen, two varsity teams were crippled with one freshman squad disbanded at Texas Western.

Fresniano basketball coach Joe Iba had to cancel the second half of the fresh schedule because five team members lost eligibility.

Tennis coach Leslie Berkos lost four of his top varsity men.

And track mentor Ross Moore lost seven of his 13 scholarship holders via the semester grade route which caused Athletic Director George McCarty to cancel all home meets-more than incurred considerable criticism.

Mr. McCarty's purpose is simple and clear-cut, mean as a protection for the track participants:

- All of the home meets originally scheduled were duals and triangulars. Since only two or three teams would be participating, winning and losing would center around team depth—something the Miners couldn't possibly have now. There are only nine thinlads left on the team.

- This lack of depth would mean that several events would not have any Westerners participating, while others would have less talented team members running—a situation that could be embarrassing for the individual before he's crowned.

- Considerable pressure, therefore, would be placed upon the rest of the team. It's no fun running in a meet knowing that no matter how hard one tries, TWC won't win.

A Miner win would be possible, but not as likely as a track meet with 10 or more schools in volved. Several points for victory could be achieved by the Miner's four, five or six excellent athletes on the team. Since a major home meet wasn't on the sched ule, then Mr. McCarty had to decide whether to have the team embarrassed by cancelling the home meets or let the schedule remain as it was. He chose the former.

Before the semester grades took their toll, Texas Western had promised to be a track power this year. Their 440-relay team would have been one of the better in the country. But when you lose two sprinters who can turn the century around 10.3 and 10.4 as TW did, three relay teams are weakened as well as the several individual events.

But couldn't one home meet have been left on the schedule? There are track enthusiasts in El Paso who would appreciate witnessing a collegiate track meet. And the good athletes on the team would have the opportunity of showing the home crowd the skills they have worked hard all year to sharpen, thus brightening an otherwise droll season.

Now back to the academic question.

The spring sports have and will always suffer more than the fall sports due to the summer break before the fall term. Should a football player have academic trouble in the spring, he always has a summer season to increase his chances for eligibility. Meanwhile the cinderellas, base ballers, golfers and tennis men don't have the same opportunity to regain lost ground between the fall and spring semesters.

If a student volunteer system were incorporated to tutor athletes who have academic trouble, coaches' woes would certainly decrease.

But this wouldn't necessarily solve the problem. As is usually the case, the net result would depend upon the athlete himself.

ROOMMATES REVISITED

No dear Desperate, your problem with Mervis Trunz is far from insoluble. In fact, as roommate problems go, it is pretty small potatoes. Compare it, for example, to the case of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades with Mervis Trunz.

To have a friend, dear Desperate, you must be a friend. And what could be more friendly than sharing the bounty of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades? Who, upon enjoying the luxury of Personna, the needles, scissors, tape, tags, hangers, scrabbles, matches, comfort of Personna, the ease and brevity, the power and glory, the truth and beauty of Personna, who, I say, after such jollies could harden his heart against his neighbor? Nobody, that's who.

Dear Desperate, really tried everything? Have you, for example, tried a measure so simple, so obvious, that it is easy to overlook? For example, have you offered to share your Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades with Mervis Trunz?

Peripatetic Jottings

Interested Student Government Can Overcome College Apathy

The most action-packed, noisy, exciting time of the school year has come and almost ended.

It is a time when candidates, campaign workers, and partisans support the Campus in a sea of voting.

It is a time to toil when no place is too sacred to put up campaign posters, literature, etc.

It is a time when political parties band together to select candidates and work on platform ideas. The campaign season is a couple of weeks, quietly dissolve into a year long hibernation.

It is a time when serious charges are levied, rash promises are made, and newly married couples support the Campus in a sea of voting.

It is a time when the custodians find themselves faced with the task of scraping graffiti from walls, washing chalk off sidewalks even before the candidates have had time for all the paper personalities.

In short, it is election time on the TWC Campus again.

The planning of this year's Student Association elections was poor to say the least. The date for the election was printed in the student handbook, but not on the student calendar. The dates were printed erroneously on a calendar issued by the Music Department but correctly by the Prospector. Although there can be no valid excuse for lack of knowledge of the dates, lack of knowledge about the candidates and the campaign issues cannot be so easily explained away.

The main complaint is lack of time. There was simply not enough time between the meeting of the candidates and the elections for the students to learn about the individual candidates. Perhaps a more valid complaint is that the candidates did not use the week allowed for campaigning to the best advantage. This can be said of most, if not all, students who do not belong to any Campus organization.

No matter who is responsible or what the faults are, it is up to that year's elections committee. The Student Association owes this much to students as well as the candidates.

Bobby Dobbs Stays With Team; Deserves Thanks

Description of head football Coach Bobby Dobbs: A gentleman in coach's clothing.

While pondering whether to accept the head coaching job at Texas Western the Senior classman had a change of heart. He was quite late to the student body, but he made up for it by working hard and, had he decided to go, the team would have had to adjust to a new head coach as well as one or two new assistants—an unfair situation for any team or new coach to face.

Dobbs's decision to stay marks another prestigious victory for the Miners—when Army can be added to the list of schools, along with such notables as Texas Christian and the University of Kentucky.

And we at Texas Western can show our appreciation better than full strength for the Orange-White spring training game 7:30, May 7, in the Sun Bowl.

Spring Brings Sand And Bat Flat To Campus

Would you believe April showers? In El Paso—never!
The city is currently experiencing its annual sandstorms in which the streets are dusty and the sky is covered with a thick layer of hot air, stirring up the dust. However, it should settle down in time for TWC's spring training drills which are expected soon.

April has also brought Spring fever to the Campus and with it comes the usual gripes which seem to be well founded. For instance, everyone has noticed the plans for sandstorms. If they are to be carried out, they may finish their terms and have no time to read a book that is not required by professors.

Recent Campus events: the formation of Beta Alpha Tau fraternity that's just batty. These courageous figures are dedicated to stomping "the miserable meanies" of Gotham El Paso! Action-minded College men are interested to know that they are needed or worthwhile service.

The Day Is Far From Over, Students Still at Work

Spring brings an end to the winter weather, but it also brings an end to the spring training season. The TWC students have been working hard to improve the campus and the city, and they are still at work today.

Bobby Dobbs has decided to stay on as head coach, and he deserves thanks for his dedication to the team. His decision is a source of great pride for the miners and a reminder of the importance of teamwork.

The spring training season is over, but the work of the students continues. They are making the campus a better place to live, and their efforts are not yet complete.

Want to be a leader and double your chances for success in life? You can, by earning both a degree and an Army officer’s commission at the same time...even though you may not have taken ROTC training in your first two years!

Through a new program, you can be commissioned as a Second Lieutenant after taking two years of Army ROTC training while you complete your studies for a college degree. You can qualify for this program by attending a special six-week summer training camp after your sophomore year and then completing the ROTC Advanced Course in your junior and senior years of college.

Here’s what ROTC training and an officer’s commission will do for you:

- It will qualify you to fulfill your military obligation as an officer.
- You will learn to organize, motivate, and lead others.
- You will develop leadership qualities that many college men miss—self-discipline, physical stamina, poise, bearing, the acceptance of responsibility and other qualities that contribute to success in either a civilian or military career.
- You will receive $40 per month during your junior and senior years, plus pay and mileage for summer training.

The training and experience you will receive through Army ROTC will pay off for the rest of your life. A decision to take advantage of this new program could be one of the most important you will ever make.

Symphonic Band
To Give Concerts

One-hundred and one members of the Texas Western College Symphonic Band, directed by Prof. Harold L. Hillyer, will present 11 concerts in four days on a tour of West Texas and southern New Mexico beginning Tuesday.

Dr. Olatr E. Edie, head of the Department of Music, said Hillyer has done a sterling job in preparing the largest concert band in Texas Western history for the tour which will feature four principal soloists, a drum duet, trumpet trio and snare drum trios.

The purpose of the tour is to present the band to a wide variety of Southwesterners and demonstrate the great potential of the band to stimulate musical growth among college students, to provide expert training and preparation for aspiring music teachers and performers, to make available a channel to the non-musician to offer its personnel a rich and unique social contact, and to serve the college in musical functions from the football field to the concert stage.

The first day of the tour will take the Symphonic Band to Las Cruces Senior High School to pay a visit by the band director there, Gregg Randall, who recently was guest conductor with Hillyer's band at TWC's Magnificent Auditorium. The band then travels to Garden, N. M. Senior High School, Clarinetist John Cochran will be the featured soloist for the Las Cruces concert while the Garden concert will have Kenneth Opshaw, trumpet, and Richard Larchewich, French horn, as soloists.

The second day will find a trumpet trio Robert Meek, Donald Ross, and James Montgomery, featured with the band at Pecos, Texas, snare drum trios at Marfa, Texas, and a drum duet (Ismael Tercero and Joe Rodriguez) at Hobbs, N. M. Tercero and Rodriguez are also members of the snare drum trio groups which also include Ray Sharp, junior music student, David Marquez, freshman music major, James Romero, junior philosophy student, and Armanda Gallego, freshman government student.

On the third day the band plays concerts at Seminole, Texas, and at Kermit, Texas, the home town of flute soloist Sara Lynn Cramer. The last concert of the day will be at Blackshear High School in Odessa, Texas.

The schedule for the last day, April 2, calls for concerts at Carver High School in Midland, Texas, and then at Crane and Ft. Stockton, Texas.

Softball, Track Begin In Intramural League

By JIMMY PAUL

Intramural Softball got off to a running start with a couple of close outings and a few one-sided games. In League 1 the PE Majors came from behind to finish with one of the best post-season infiends failed to ruin against the strong hitting of the AVCC.

Hudspeth jumped to a two-run lead and held it till the third inning. The Majors tied the score and went on to score six more in the fourth and two more in the fifth. The final score was 10-3. Hudspeth—3 Win-Winning pitcher was Charlie Basinger and John Tier was the loser. Schellenger, last year's champ, took on the PCA's, and, using some of their old tricks to dump the Engineers. 10-4, Victor Armandna pitched a shut-out, an almost impossible feat in slow pitch softball. Schellenger scored in every inning and finished the fourth inning with four extra runs. Ty Phillipone was credited with the last.

Intramural Track proved to be more exciting than usual with eight records being broken. The biggest win was on a shaft infied and timely hits dropped LCA 11-5. Rounding out the action, the AFO's stunned an favored AKL team 17-4. AKL featuring one of the best post-season infielders failed to ruin against the strong hitting of the AVCC.
