Musical Groups To Give Concert

The Texas Western College Symphony Orchestra and the Collegiate Chorale will present separate programs early this week.

The 35 voices of the Collegiate Chorale, under the direction of Hugh F. Cardon, will present a full concert of choral numbers in conjunction with the All-College Chorus, directed by Charles Woodiel, in Magnoff Auditorium on Sunday at 3:30 p.m.

The concert is free. The members of the Collegiate Chorale are chosen by audition at the beginning of each semester. Mr. Cardon said members trained in choirs of El Paso form the nucleus since 70 per cent of the current membership were graduated from local high schools.

The All-College Chorus is a large choir of more than 90 voices and is open to all college students. Earlier this semester the chorus participated with members of many local church choirs in the presentation of an oratorio, "The Creation," at Memorial Gym.

The Collegiate Chorale will include compositions by Italian, German, and French composers and will use the original language except in the case of Russian, but Mr. Cardon said the program is predominantly American and modern choral music including a number with the flavor of barber shop quartet harmonies which were base and Negro spirituals.

ORCHESTRA

The Texas Western College Symphony Orchestra will be augmented by the return of several graduate students for its final concerts this season, which will be held Tuesday, in Magnoff Auditorium.

Prof. Abraham Chavez Jr., director of the orchestra, said he hopes to make a tradition of asking the graduating students to return and play with the orchestra each year. (Continued on Page 6)
In Intramural Action

By JIMMY PAUL

Holy Batmen! League I action saw the big first inning with the leading contenders go to work scoring a furious total of 50 runs in nine innings. The Southeast Tarrant Tortilla Manufacturers Local 69 All-Stars scored a total of 22 runs in three innings while Schellenger and the big bats of the big first inning. Ron Seeger had a round-tripper for the PR. Thursday, underhanded Schellenger brought their heavy batterry extent to the Bell Hall field and demoralized the PR Majors with a flurry of Bat bombardment. Summer Institute Scheduled

The El Paso Public Schools and Texas Western College will sponsor an Advanced Study Division of El Paso Summer Institute at El Paso High School June 13-July 22.

Opportunities will be extended to high-ability senior high school students to take college-level courses, work in college laboratories, and do serious scientific research in the Advanced Study Division according to Dr. Ray Snell, Dean of Arts and Sciences, and Frank I. Gary, Summer Institute director.

Invitations to participate in the Advanced Study Division will be extended to professors at Texas Western and other universities as well as scientists from other organizations.

The general plans for the first semester Institute college-level courses in physics, chemistry, mathematics, and English were approved at a meeting of college and public school officials.

The committee included: Dean Snell, professors Max C. Bolin, Steve Hancock, Herman Gladman, John West, Delmar Boyer, Floyd O. Neill, B. John Brent, Robert Walker, Frank I. Gary and Dr. Gay McNeil of the El Paso Public Schools.

Regular professors will be invited to qualify to teach the college level and the heads of college departments and professors will serve as consultants.

Tuition in the Advanced Study Division is $35 and students may only enroll in one course. A small fee will also be charged for chemicals and supplies used in laboratory work.

Application blanks and a bulletin of information may be secured from any public, private, or parochial school or from Frank I. Gary, Director of Seminars and Institutes, El Paso Public Schools.

'Sun City Singers'
Head EPHS Fiesta

Jim Oth and Jim Brayman, both graduates of El Paso High, have been selected to head the entertainment for this year's El Paso High Spring Fiesta to be held tomorrow in the El Paso Coliseum.

The group, previously called the "Gospel Folk," has changed its name to "The Sun City Singers," in an attempt to conform to the atmosphere of local night club entertainment.

While attending El Paso High, both Oth and Brayman participated in "A" Choir and sang in the school's folk singing club. They now attend Texas Western College where Brayman is majoring in journalism and Oth is majoring in business administration.

The group was formed nearly a year and a half ago when the two began singing together at the Cellar Coffee House. They picked up the name "Gospel Folk" months later and began to sing in the El Paso area.

As the folk-singing atmosphere faded away in the El Paso Southwest, the men decided to compromise fast rock with folk-singing and a new, unique sound was created. As Bob Dylan introduced folk-rock with its instruments in the background, the "Gospel Folk" tried establishing the same beat and rhythm with just a 12-string guitar.

The group continued to play various folk-singing establishments until March when they were asked to sing in concert with the Beachboys at the Sun Bowl. They then performed on the "The Group and D. K." and other television performances, at the Ft. Bliss service clubs, on the mall at Bassett Center, at the La Fonda East, and at various night clubs in the area.

Realizing the night club employment would be the most advantageous and profitable, the "Gospel Folk" changed their name to "The Sun City Singers."

From Little Red Schoolhouse To TWC—Causing Frustration

TO THE EDITOR:

The transition from a student in the proverbial "Little Red Schoolhouse" to a college student 50 years ago, learning the three "R's" in a setting designed specifically for those of the Texas Western demographic, was a natural progression.

Fifty years ago I was such a student in such a little red schoolhouse in the backwoods area of Western Texas, and it prepared me well to become a student at TWC.

The greatest frustration that besets one is the problem of re-acquiring the habit of learning. As the years pass, one finds it increasingly hard to acquire study habits. The retention of the material that has been learned, particularly the recall of those words and phrases necessary to complete your education, is a frustrating experience. The knowledge that you work so hard to acquire is quickly lost.

I find no great difference in the methods of learning in the past and those of the present, except that the teacher-student rapport that existed in those days is absent in today's classroom. To deplore that it was largely due to smaller classes in those days is unfair. The classroom is a level playing field.

The average young person of today has a far greater opportunity to decide the need of a college education than was dreamed possible 50 years ago. If I may be allowed to use the criteria of age and experience to offer advice I would offer it bluntly. If you are in college make every effort to complete your education. The younger you drop out the harder it is to finish. The problem of context with those words and phrases necessary to complete your education never decreases.

While one finds learning a frustrating experience, one also finds the (Editors note: Mr. Hutchins is a disabled veteran of World War II who returned to school after many years, "just because I wanted to get a college degree.")
Delta Phi Initiates 29 New Members

Nine faculty members of the Department of Biological Sciences and 29 students, majoring in the biological sciences, were initiated into Delta Phi chapter of Beta Beta Beta, national biological honor society recently.

Dr. Mark G. Anderson, chairman of the Department of Biology at New Mexico State University, assisted by three graduate students, installed the new chapter of Beta Beta Beta.

At the banquet following the installation and initiation ceremonies, Dr. Anderson spoke on certain problems concerning research in parasitology. Officers of Delta Phi chapter are: Lawrence H. Robinson, president; Karen R. Ward, secretary-treasurer; and Roger R. Delgado, historian. Dr. Peter S. Crenshaw is the faculty sponsor.

Senior Offered 4 Grants

Senior Jacqueline Border has been offered four graduate teaching assistantships in France for 1966-67 ranging from $3,600.

Miss Border is undecided, but will probably take Wayne State University. "Wayne State doesn't have a Ph.D. so I will have to go somewhere else," she said.

The other schools offering her the assistantships are the University of Iowa, University of Kansas, and Texas Tech College.

The exam for section 9 will be scheduled by the instructor.

Spikemen Slosh Up 2nd In Hobbs Relays

Texas Western's run-droppers compiled 57 points to take second place in the Hobbs Relays in a cold, windy, and rainy night meet. McMurray totaled 75 team-points to take first; while Eastern New Mexico University placed third with 38 points.

The 440-yard relay team composed of Eddie Shirley, Richard Osborn, John Kennedy, and Jerome Ship took first with a 4:55.6 clocking. The extent of the head weather is best shown by Kennedy's 10.3 time in the 100-yard dash, Christian Errazu's 22.9 mark in the high-jump, Kennedy took first while Errazu won second. Eddie Shirley won the 440-yard dash with a 4:58.5 timing and Charles Grant took the two-mile run in 10 minutes flat. Texas Western's second place finish was headed by Shirley in the 220-yard dash, Grant in the mile run, Larry Kohler in the shot-put and discus, and the mile relay team composed of Kennedy, Shirley, Osburn, and Lee Taylor.

The last track meet of the year for Coach Ross Moore's cinder men will be at the Lobo Relays in Albuquerque with competition coming from host UNM, Houston, and Abilene Christian College.

Texas Western competitors in their respective events will be:
- 100 yards dash, Kennedy and Smith
- 220 yards dash, Kennedy and Taylor
- 440 yards dash, Shirley and Taylor
- Mile run, Grant
- Two-mile run, Grant

depending on the number of former orchestra students who can meet rehearsal schedules and perform with the orchestra, Chavez said the orchestra may number as many as 75. The public is invited with no charge for admission. "Brandenburg Concerto No. I" by J. S. Bach and "Dance Overtures" by Creton will be performed for the first time in El Paso, and a special feature of the concert will be "Concerto in D for Guitar" by Castelnuovo-Tedesco. Soloist for the guitar concert will be Aquiles Valdez, an outstanding Juarez guitarist who has played concerts in Boulder, Colo., and Albuquerque, N. M., as well as recording for long playing records and motion picture films in Mexico.

Curtis Peacock, a junior music student who recently was featured in a student recital at the Sul Ross Ballroom, will be concertmaster of the orchestra. Leaders of the other string sections of the orchestra are Wilfrida Bateam (second violins), H. E. R. N. R. E. M. (ottas), and Ricardo Barragan (string basses).
