

An aerial photograph of a desert campus, likely Texas Western College. The image shows a winding road through a hilly, arid landscape. In the foreground, there are large, modern buildings with flat roofs and extensive parking lots filled with cars. The terrain is rocky and sparsely vegetated. In the background, a dense residential area with many small houses is visible, situated on a hillside. The overall scene depicts a well-developed campus in a desert environment.

'66

FLOWERSHEET

Texas
Western College

Max L. Bolen

1966 Flowsheet

Texas Western College
El Paso, Texas

Martha Toney, Editor

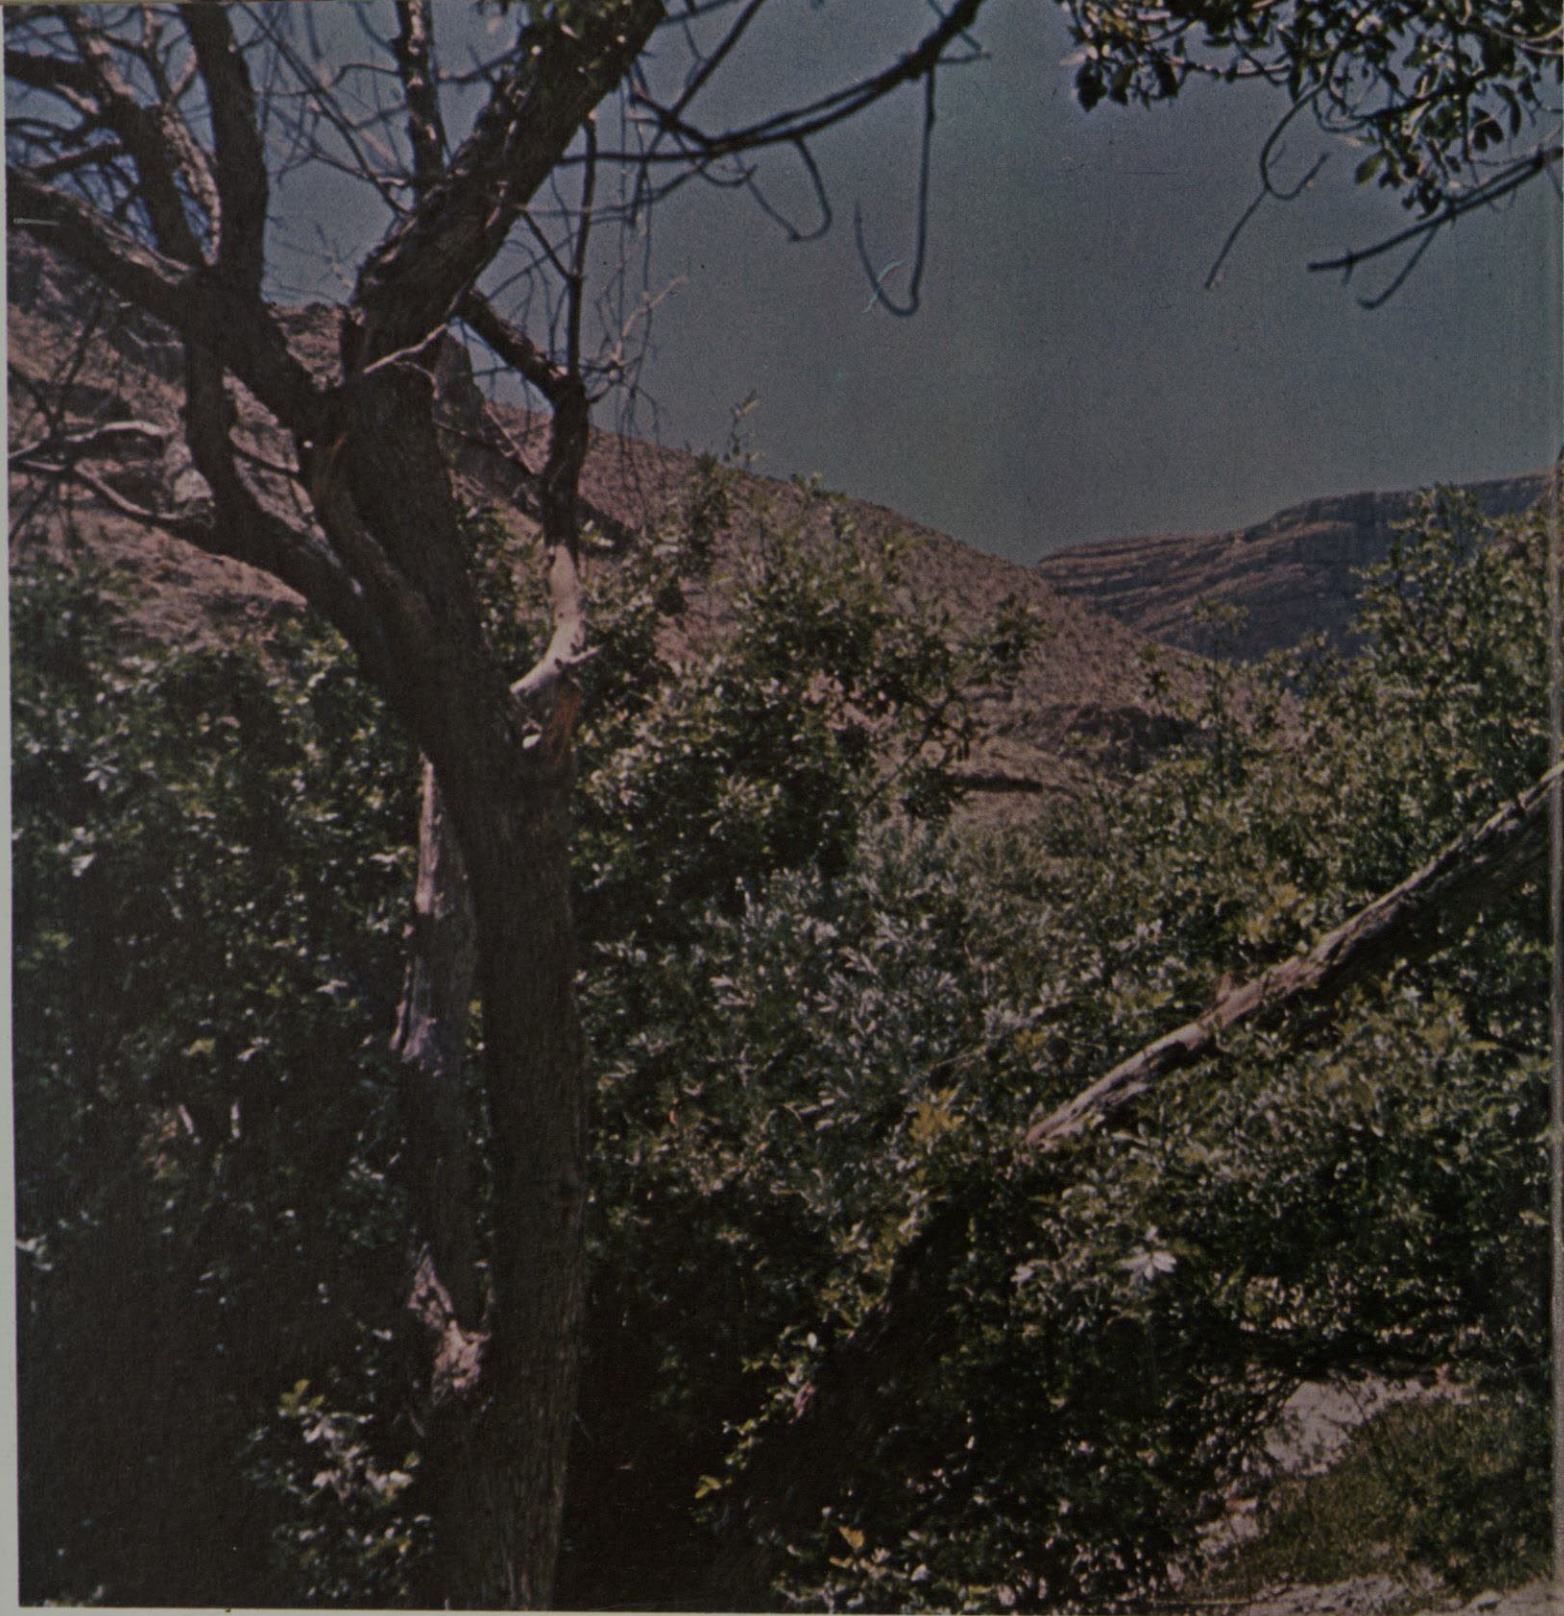

Table of Contents

Campus Life	4
Features	32
Administration	68
Faculty	82
Greeks	132
Organizations	172
Publications	198
Student Government	212
Sports	224
Military	264
Classes	280
Ads and Index	334