

The first MINER yearbook was published in 1915 as the Prospector. In 1922 an editorial staff was selected, and the first FLOWSHEET came out.

This copy of the Prospector shows that original staff. History of publications at Texas Western is colorful and significant, mirroring the progress and growth of the college.

The campus newspaper is the oldest college publication, having been first issued in magazine form as the Crucible in 1916. Three years later it assumed the name and form of the Prospector that we know today.

El Burro, the college variety magazine, was published first in 1939, portraying the antics of a wiry burro, The MINER mascot.

THE COLLEGE OF MINES AND METALLURGY of the UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS is the only institution in the United States offering exclusively a four year course in Mining Engineering. The location is ideal; the instruction is thorough and practical; the faculty consists of the most capable and experienced men. Expenses are moderate. Information will be gladly furnished by the Registrar.

The Prospector

VOLUME IV.
COLLEGE OF MINES and METALLURGY, UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS, EL PASO, TEXAS, FEBRUARY 1, 1922.
NUMBER V

H. V. OLSEN
Athletic Editor

SAM D. HENDRICKS
School News Editor.

WILLARD L. RUSSELL
Editor-in-chief

ARTHUR C. WHEATLEY
Associate Editor.

JAMES J. GLENN
Business Manager

450 TONS OF GOLD ORE, COPPER MINES RAPIDLY RESUMING OPERATIONS

14 ct. Copper and Reduction of War Surplus Cause Mines to Reopen Sooner Than Expected.

The famous Helen Rae group of mining claims situated in the Nogal district have again come to the forefront. In years past these claims have produced large quantities of

PRACTICE MINE ON CAMPUS TYPIFIES PRACTICAL METHOD OF INSTRUCTION

Juniors have begun their work in the practice mine. About thirty have enrolled for the course. New equipment and material for the work

T. S. M. GIVES ANNUAL HARD LUCK DANCE

Annual Dance Featuring Khaki and Gingham Given at University Club.

The Hard Luck Dance which is looked forward to each January was given at the University Club rooms

SCIENTIFIC CLUB GETS INSTRUCTIVE MOVIE FILMS FROM BUREAU OF MINES

The Scientific Club has been successful in obtaining from the U. S. Bureau of Mines their promise to provide the Club with a set of instructive moving picture films for Publicity today has become an important part of student life.

El Burro and the Prospector are the most widely read publications on campus; the ex-students print their own magazine, the Nugget, and the FM college radio station, KVOF, not only serves the college with music and news, but also the community with educational programs for the public schools.

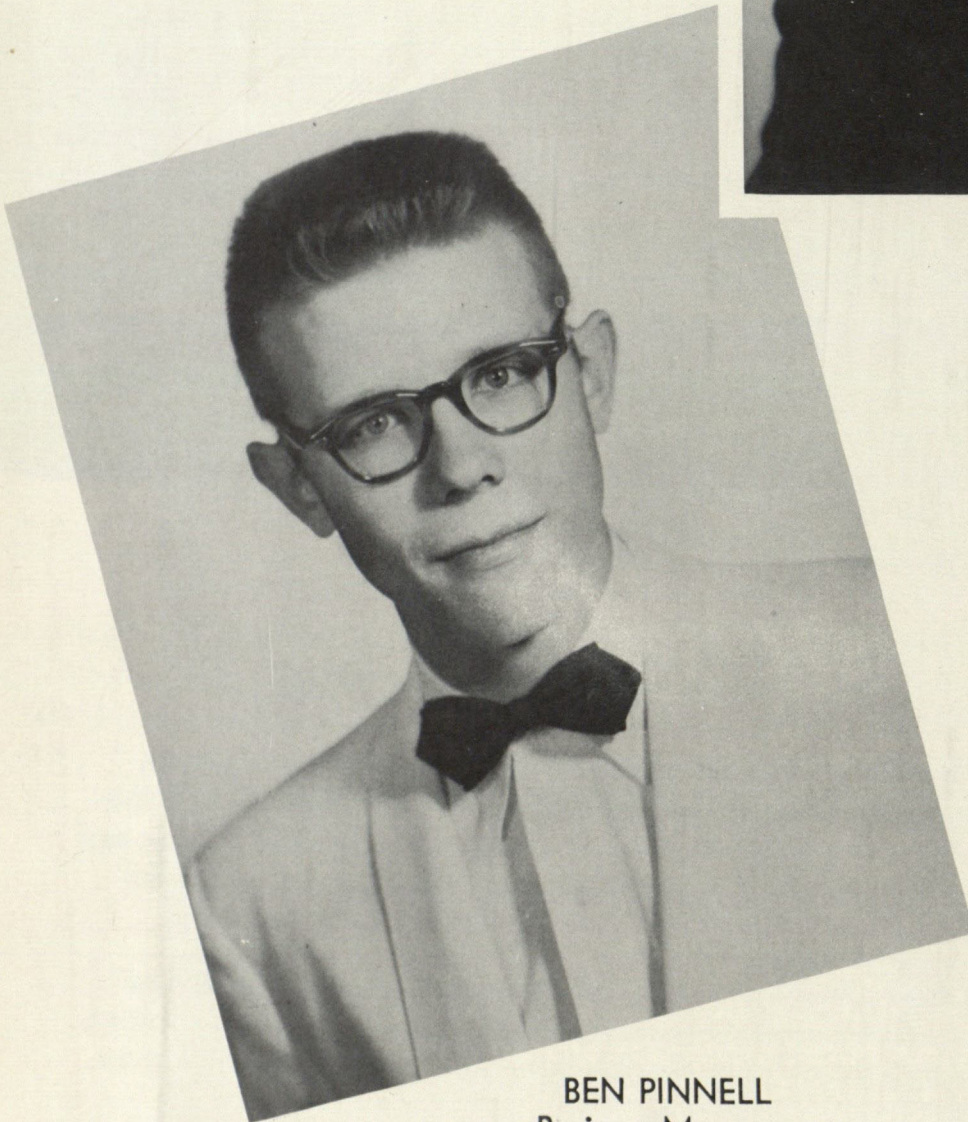

Completed in 1948, KVOF acquired television facilities in 1954, and expects to have a televised educational program on campus by this summer, eventually planning to have closed circuit contact with every building on campus.

EL BURRO

El Burro is the monthly humor and pictorial magazine published at Texas Western by student journalists. Its contents are designed to suit the taste of every student faction, ranging from cartoons, jokes, pictures, and humorous articles to serious essays. El Burro is written and produced entirely by TWC students offering workshop opportunities to poets, photographers, cartoonists, artists, and writers, as well as to those interested in the advertising and business side of the publication.

HENRY SOSA
Editor

BEN PINNELL
Business Manager

Gloria Estrada, Henry Sosa, Barbara Fisher, and Ben Pinnell confer on material for a forthcoming issue.

Billie Burson watches Al Ortiz draw one of his fabulous pin-ups.

EL BURRO STAFF

1st Row: Wanda Hill, Billie Burson, Ruth Speir, Gloria Estrada, and Barbara Fisher.
2nd Row: Sam Schneider, Henry Sosa, Bob Fluitt and Al Ortiz.
Not Pictured are Dr. Ray Past and Dr. J. F. Williams, Faculty Advisors.

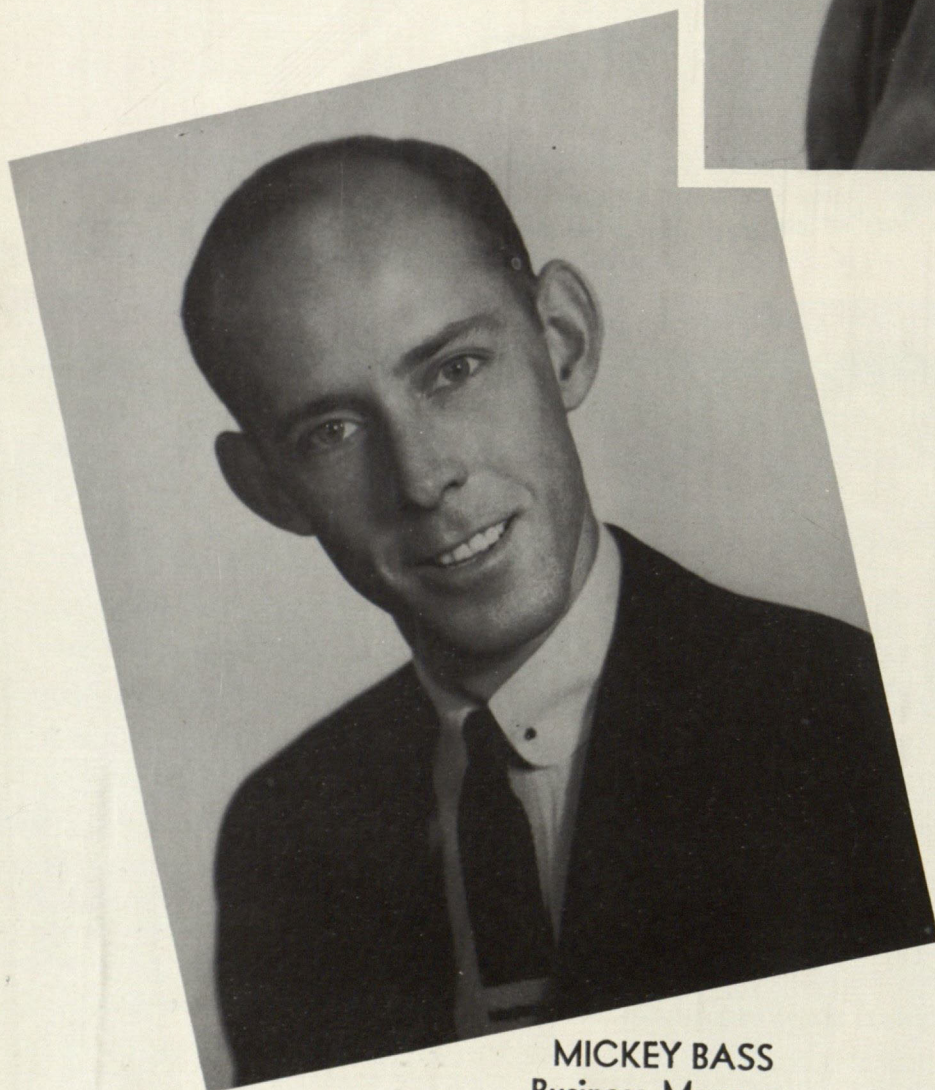

FLOWSHEET

The Texas Western College yearbook is distributed in May of each year. It tells through pictorial and written records the story of college life during that particular year. The staff is composed of student journalists who work as artists, writers, layout technicians, photographers and make-up artists.

LAVON HARTRICK
Editor

MICKEY BASS
Business Manager

Jeannette McFadden gets help from editor, Lavon.

Cynthia Garbrecht and Jeanine Beevers are working hard on getting the Flowsheet to press.

FLOWSHEET STAFF

1st Row: Damon Garbern, Jeanine Beevers, Lavon Hartrick, Mickey Bass, and Gary Hall.

2nd Row: Pat Whitt, Lydia Franco, Jean Willmore, Cookie Vogelpohl, Pete Gray, Louise Strain, Judy Moore, Gloria Martinez, Irene Holguin, and Janyth Smith.

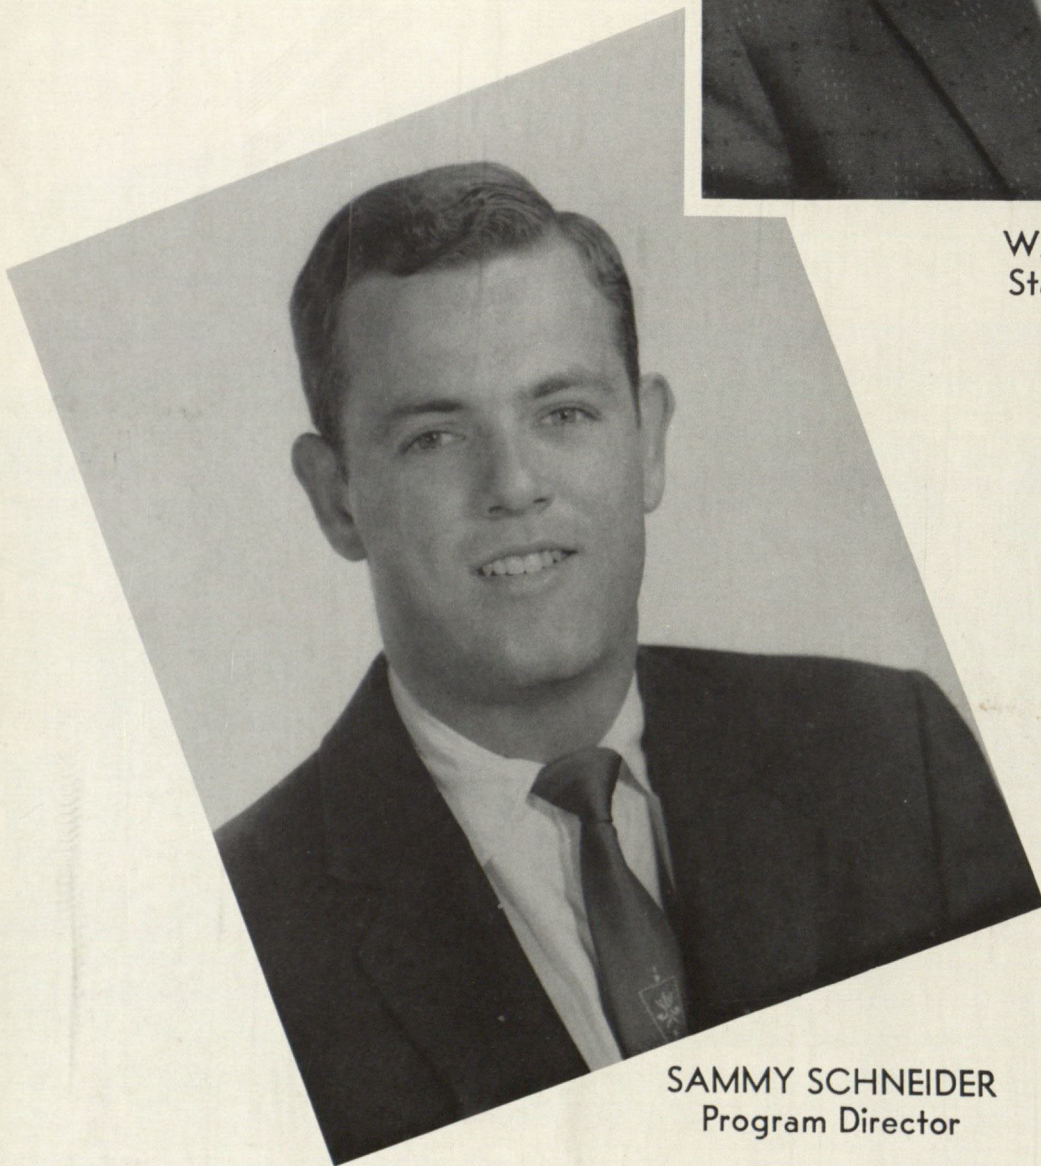

KVOF FM

Although the signal of radio station KVOF is confined to the campus area, it is, in every other respect, the counterpart of a standard commercial broadcast station. Operating from two modern studios, each with its own control room, KVOF plans its programs to suit college tastes. A staff of more than fifty radio-television majors is responsible for ten hours of broadcasting each day, and campus listeners are provided with on-the-spot-coverage of sports and special events that are of interest to Texas Western students.

WALLY HARTLY
Station Manager

SAMMY SCHNEIDER
Program Director

Jim "Rocky" Peak, popular sportscaster, is heard daily at 6 p. m. on KVOF. Rocky has rated right along with the network experts on his selections of game winners in all major sports.

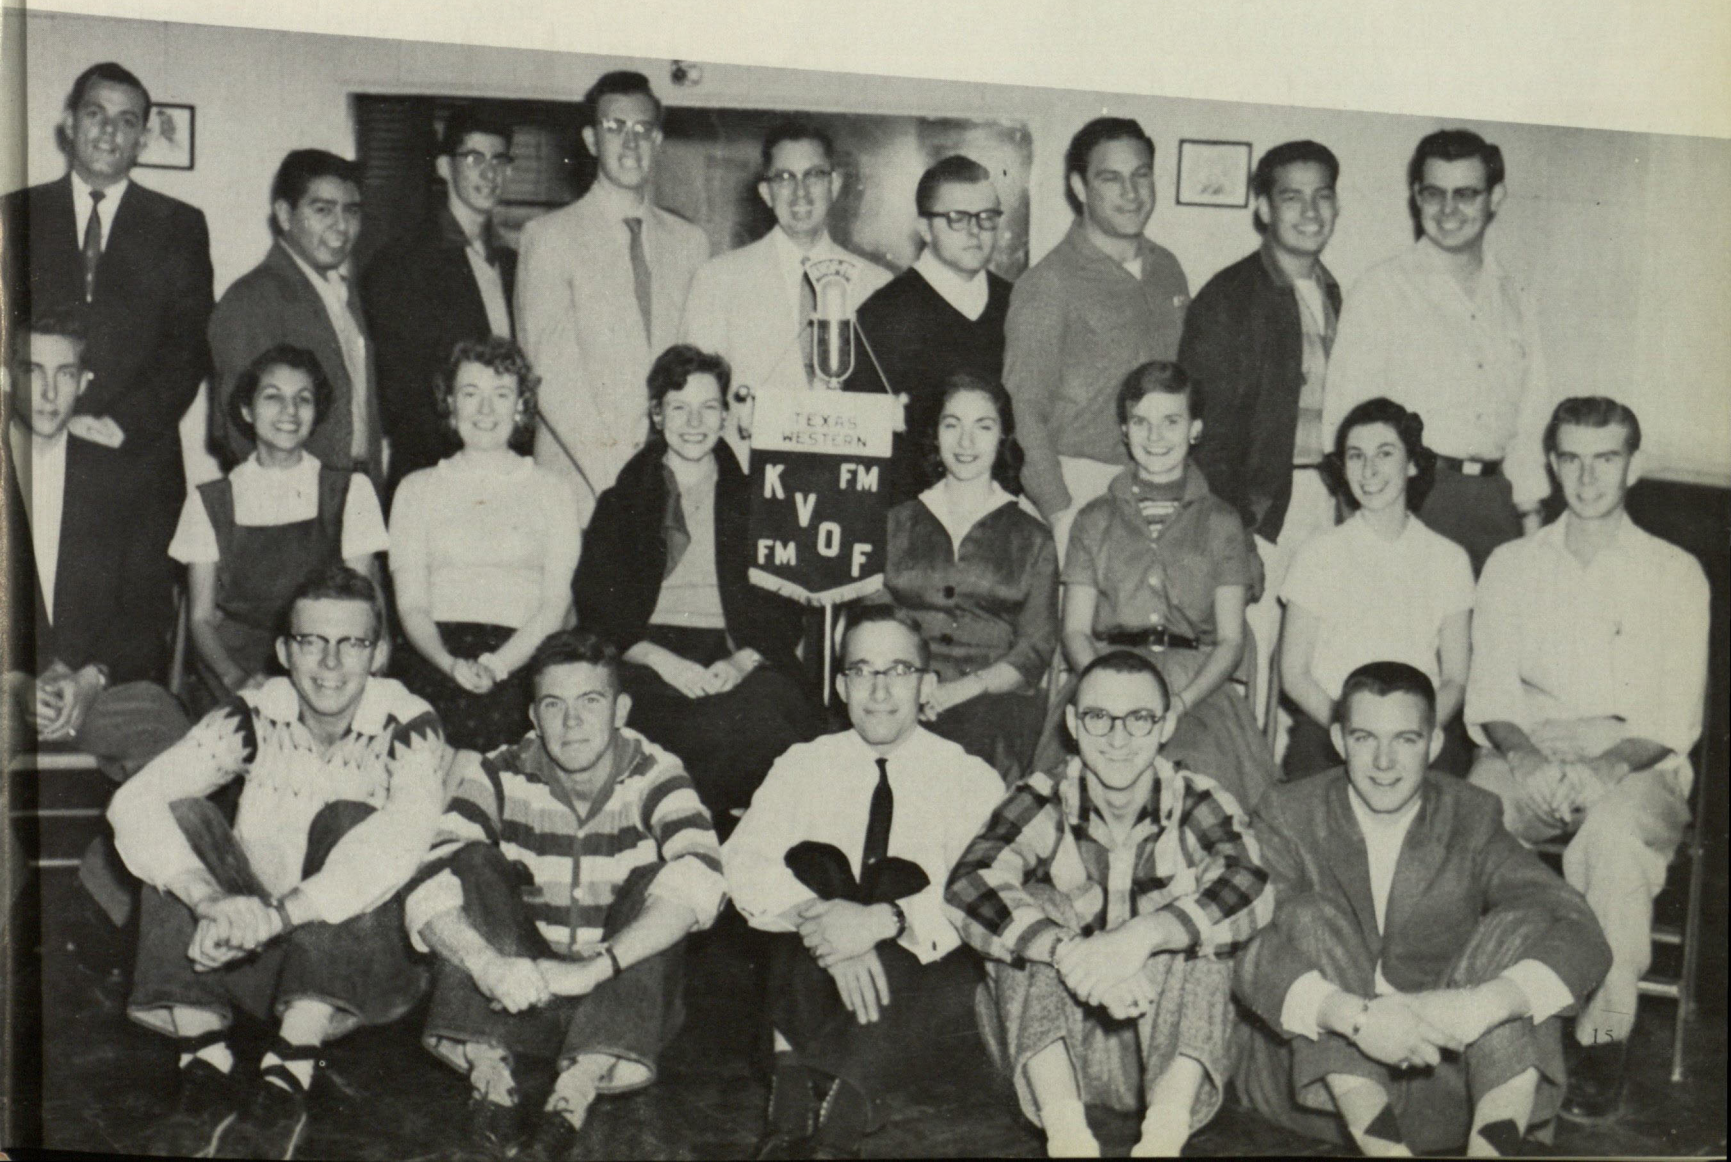

Howard Sagor, left, and Bobby Prensky check the news wire in the KVOF newsroom just prior to the broadcast of one of the hourly news programs.

KVOF STAFF

1st Row: Ronald Dettman, Willard Ward, Howard Sagor, Jim Peak, and Fred "Stoney" Witt.

2nd Row: Robert Kniveton, Rita Salazar, Wanda Hill, Fanelle Boney, Della Haddad, Nancy Creswell, Frankie Gold, and John Ford.

3rd Row: Sammy Schneider, Mike Guardia, Bob Prensky, Charles McGaha, Virgil C. Hicks, Wally Hartly, Nat Young, Juan Saldivar, and Bill Webb.

THE PROSPECTOR

Published weekly during the fall and spring semester, The Prospector carries news, views, and other information of interest to the student body, faculty, and friends of Texas Western. The newspaper has won first place in the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association and All American awards for outstanding work in the journalism field.

DEAN DEU PREE
Editor

PRISCILLA WINSLOW
Managing Editor

Wonder what story Margie Crawford is working on here?

Here, working hard at looking busy, are Jim Peak and Steve Morales.

PROSPECTOR STAFF

1st Row: Margie Crawford, Bobby Prenskey, Sammy Schneider, Dean Deu Pree, Steve Morales, Barbara Sanborn, and Edwin Lent.

2nd Row: Jim Peak, George Robertson, Fenton Alley, Herb Blue, Sam Pendergast, and John Middagh, Faculty Advisor.

