LIFE

Don't look so happy, son, that's what they're serving for lunch.

You think you're tired now, wait till you get to the top.

FALL, 1960 FOUND THE FRESHMEN

This little hike is to get the freshmen accustomed to walking across campus.

Don't just stand there, the boy needs help.

PAINTING THE "M" IN THEIR BEANIES

Each year, before school officially starts, the Freshmen climb the mountain to whitewash the "M".

Obviously these boys aren't cut out to be home-makers.

This registration mess is awful, especially for the first-semester freshmen.

REGISTRATION WORRIES BEGAN ALL OVER AGAIN

All right, Cecil, dig deep! Those fees must be paid by September 19th.

Y'all smile just as long as you can because this isn't any fun at all.

WITH CARDS QUESTIONS AND FEES.

A million lines of typewritten words and still the registration line stretches on and on.

Yup, it is disgusting to try to avoid the Army when they just sit there and smile.

Your freshman beanie certainly looks impressive, Truett, but so does Mrs. Duke's card file.

Lambda Chi Alpha's officers greet the rushees with warm handclaps and big smiles.

FRATERNITY RUSH PARTIES START SCHOOL WITH A BANG

At the Kappa Sigma House some serious rushing was done with chapter president Jim Peticolas showing how.

Pretty Marcia Haney lent a feminine touch to the Phi Tau parties. "Have another cookie, boys, they're good!"

SORORITY RUSH IS GLAMOROUS AND GAY

Pretty girls, all asmile, certainly make rush-week an exciting adventure.

No! They aren't proposing marriage; there just weren't enough chairs to go around.

Rush does have its serious side, too, especially when a rushee is shown the lodge.

Our BIG Miners fought hard for every inch of ground that they gained, and they fought well for T.W.C.

FOOTBALL WAS BIGGER AND BETTER THAN EVER...

Those wide eyes and awed expressions indicate that the "Knot-Hole Gang" is really impressed. "WOW!!"

Say, are they looking for the football, or is there something happening that is more important than that?

These lovely ladies, in coordination with Mike Bishop, the new feature twirler with the Texas Western Marching Cavalcade, presented several colorful half-time shows.

ESPECIALLY WITH THE ENCOURAGEMENT AND SUPPORT OF THE BAND,

THE MAJORETTES,
AND THE LOVELY
GOLDDIGGERS

Mrs. Barbara Prewitt, Gold-digger instructor, created the choreography for the Gold-diggers.

The bright uniforms of the Texas Western College Marching Band stand out sharply against the stadium crowd.

Miss Bettie Anne Davis, talented feature majorette, strikes a formal pose.

The Phi Taus' "Prospector's Progress" won Sweepstakes and showed us the vast change in the size of T.W.C.

HOMECOMING: THE GAME, THE DANCE AND PARADE

Lambda Chi certainly called to attention the problems of cars and parking spaces. They won first in fraternities.

Tri-Delt led the sorority division with an appropriate float that impressed the boys er, ahem, that is, the judges.

Chi Omega's Little LuLu added an amusing note to the Homecoming gaiety.

"Courting" in 1913 was fun, according to the Wesley Foundation group. Must be true! They all look happy.

BROUGHT EXES HOME TO
T.W.C. FOR THE EVENT
OF FALL, 1960

The Zetas' clever float predicted the fashions for the 1970 Freshmen.

Dorm Council members gather gracefully for a shot for the annual.

AUTUMN, 1960, FOUND CLUBS
MEETING, PEOPLE GOING TO CLASS, AND POLITICAL DISCUSSIONS ... EVEN AT BIG PARTIES ...

Walking to class can be a pleasurable pastime, if it's not from the gym to Burgess Hall.

Will it be Kennedy or Nixon? This seems to be the problem at hand.

Whether weighing the world situation, or working math problems, the S.U.B. was a good place to gather.

EVER BUSY THE
S. U. B. WAS A PLACE
TO MEET, SNACK
AND VISIT.

Calorie-counters and slim people too, could be accommodated in the snack-bar in the S.U.B.

Some smiling Goldiggers have just finished eating, before they have to dash off to the Golddigger class at noon.

If anyone sees Jetta, ask her who Bobby Bracewell convinced her to vote for this year.

Voting is serious at any level, whether it is for S.A. president or for U.S.A. president.

NOVEMBER BROUGHT ELECTIONS, BOTH FOR T.W.C. AND THE U.S.A.

Out student body selected many deserving young ladies to positions of honor as class favorites.

Sweetie, you don't have to depend on a stop-sign to attract contributors; those striped pants will!

"Julius" and "Sitting Bull" are getting results from their collecting, but was it for milk, or for clothes?

ON THE LIGHTER SIDE, THE A P O' S COLLECTED MONEY FOR THEIR MILK FUND

Danny, uh.....did you forget something, or does that sheepish grin indicate friendliness?

The Varsity "A" Choir performed at many functions at the college.

FALL FOUND THE VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS FAST AT WORK

The newly initiated ballet program at Texas Western flourished from the start.

Drama was given new stature by the outstanding acting done by the students in that area.

DECEMBER BROUGHT BEAUTY CONTESTS, CO-ED, COLD WEATHER, AND MORE PARTIES, FOR US TO ENJOY

Charming Carolyn Shaver is showing why she was finalist in the T.W. C. Beauty Contest.

Beauties are even beautiful when they are caught off guard, huh, Brenda, dear?

Being beautiful can be serious business, but aren't Niki and Pris overdoing it? Smile, gals, it isn't bad!

AWS held its annual hamburger fry for the nominees for the CO-ED Ball. Good food, too!

MID-SEMESTER EXAMS CAME AND WENT AND EVERYONE RESOLVED TO STUDY MORE, BUT ...

The new trophy-den room at the Lambda Chi House certainly had quite an initiation this winter; with all the cold winds, the relaxed atmosphere lent a cheering warmth.

After firm resolutions to really get down and study, we see people who look quite happy breaking them.

Jackie Schlafly cuts paper dolls in the interest of education which was a result of over-studying for semester exams.

... IT NEVER HAPPENS THAT WAY.

This ogre represents our beloved instructors' status in the minds of our student body, after mid-semester examinations.

Winfrey appears awfully worried. Could this be mid-semester?

The Military Ball was one of the highlights of the Fall Semester. QUEEN MARILYN is at her loveliest as she reigns over her Court.

The QUEEN looks happy as she receives her crown from Colonel Joseph H. Buys.

THE GALA MILITARY BALL WAS AN EVENT ENJOYED BY ALL IN ATTENDANCE

Good Old Federal Inspection, Thank Heavens It Only Happens Once A Year

R. O. T. C. COMES TWICE WEEKLY, BUT FEDERAL INSPECTION ONLY ONCE A YEAR

Column Left, HARCH!!!

What will the R.O.T.C. Department do next year without their photographer John? What will the Annual do without him?

Dr. Ray Past and Roger Haynes salute a traveler who didn't make it.

NEW GROUP ON CAMPUS THE "DESERT RATS"

The Desert Rats is an organization devoted to exploration, shooting, sleeping on the desert, and to the drinking of beer. It is composed of students, teachers, and the offspring of teachers. Most of their activities are confined to exploration of the Chihuahua-Sonora Desert. Some of their field trips are illustrated below.

Duane Godwin hacks at a rabbit (for the stew pot) while Prof. John Middagh grimaces and Charles Horky takes instruction.

Roger Haynes, Bill Middagh, Mr. Middagh and Duane Godwin fiddle with a campfire near Victorio tinaja, in Chihuahua.

Two Rats try to coax a fire into flame to fix breakfast.

Horky and Chip Past take out time to study algebra instead of ballistics. (John Fitch was busy taking these pictures.)

This group of motorcycle-jacketed men are not escapees from "The Wild Ones." They are, from left to right, Gene Colley, Guy O'Neal, Ernie Fulford, Jackson Burkett, and Tracy Baker.

OUR "CAMPUS COPS" ENFORCE THE TRAFFIC LAWS AT T. W. C.

"Mmmmm! I'll bet that smarts!" Boy, being a policeman is no laughing matter.

He looks so happy that he must've just made an arrest. Shame on you, Ernie, he didn't mean to!

The tension mounts until a peek at the judges becomes an important necessity.

These lovely, gracious winners pose for an informal picture. They are Niki Lettunich, Sara Connaly, Carol Knapp, and Necha Stewart.

In spite of the anxiety these ladies are feeling, Kay and Niki share a big smile with the photographer.

SUSPENSE, RELIEF, AND HAPPINESS MARKED THE BEAUTY CONTEST THIS YEAR

All celebrities must grant the press some interviews.

The Five Best-Dressed Eds seem to be guarding the four winners of the 1960 Beauty Contest

WITH THE BEST-DRESSED EDS ON HAND TO ESCORT THE WINNERS

One for you, and one for me, and one for you, and one for me, and ... oh, forget it! Jack and Al look patient, tho!

Petite Donna Tritt and Jerry Everett, one of the best-dressed eds, seem amused at a joke told by the m.c.

King Pat displayed his usual charm and wit at being selected to reign over his loyal subjects.

His Majesty led his lovely date, Rebecca Roberts, in the first dance.

KING PAT OF THE HOUSE OF KELLY REIGNED OVER THE GALA CO-ED BALL WITH DIGNITY

Hootie Ward, AWS president, is shown congratulating Pat as his name was announced for king. AWS sponsored the 1960 Co-Ed ball.

"WAITING FOR GODOT" WAS JUST ONE
OF THE MANY FINE PRODUCTIONS OF THE DRAMA
DEPARTMENT
THIS YEAR

Has he just eaten a lemon, or are all of the cares of the world causing such a sad, miserable face?

The College Players were especially outstanding in their "Godot" production.

Tired? Run-down after a hard day at the office? We have just the thing for you!

Hootie Ward and the AWS Council worked all year long on projects that made the organization's first year on campus an outstanding success.

MEETINGS KEPT US BUSY ALL YEAR LONG; PROJECTS, PARTIES, AND PRACTICES MADE STUDYING DIFFICULT .

Wesley Foundation, and the other religious organizations, met often to add the proper influence to every-day activities.

Among the finalists in the Miss TWC contest, held each spring, were Marilyn Geyer, Jan Breedlove, Glenda Eldridge, Anne Rutledge, and Necha Stewart. The judges had a difficult time.

SPRING CAME IN A RUSH, BRINGING WITH IT BEAUTIFUL GIRLS...

Kay Young, the 1959 Miss TWC, displayed a wide smile and a beautiful tan as she presented Glenda Eldridge the 1960 trophy.

"Dunk Me!!!" screamed the sign over the Kappa Sig's booth at the Fiesta.

and sure enough, they did! Did you catch cold, Johnny?

THE ANNUAL SPRING FIESTA, FRATERNITY FORMALS, — SORORITY DANCES, AND ...

Phi Tau had a pie-throw booth, and Dino Altamare certainly should be commended for still being able to smile after what he's been through!

Sally Haraway is aiming to hit Betty Rae and Jack with that wet sponge at the Chi Omega booth

THE TRADITIONAL HONORS DAY ASSEMBLY.

Carla Maffei, Flowsheet editor, is shown presenting the annual's dedication to Dr. Eugene Thomas on Honor's Day.

A stage full of dignitaries spoke inspiringly to a large and attentive audience at Magoffin Auditorium.

Margaret Willis, Linda Haughton, Ron Hanson, and Pat Bowman are solemnly repeating the oaths of office for the Student Association at the assembly.

IN NO TIME AT ALL, FINALS AND ALL-NIGHT CRAMMING SESSIONS WERE UPON US.

The above picture is typical of many just like it that took place during Dead Week and Finals. Our SUB and the library were worked overtime when the full realization that summer was around the corner and finals were here, hit us. Coffee and cigarettes had to sustain those of us that had neglected to study during the long semester.

This gay group decided to have a ship-wreck party, and it looks like either they really were marooned on a desert island, or else they are refugees from La Tuna.

We can't imagine what Troy is persuading Virginia to do, but let's not interrupt Tom and his friend there in the foreground!

AFTER FINALS WERE OVER, JOYOUS AND LOUD CELEBRATIONS...

Marshall and Jack think that Carla looks dead, or at least that's what the sign indicates. But after finals, who isn't?

WERE HELD TO RELIEVE THE TENSIONS OF TESTS, GRADES, AND OVERALL WORRY

Frank and Pat came as suitcases, and it is just amazing how well they held up during the ship-wreck.

Kit looks like she may be fixing to cut her date's throat. Could it be that she caught Jimmy making eyes at a pretty native girl? If she forgives him, it'll be a close shave.

This peasant was hired to keep the place clean during the party; you know, like sweeping away people who couldn't take the strain of fun after exams.

Photography and swimming courses provided instruction and entertainment for the summer school students.

SUMMER FUN IN THE SUN WAS RELAXING AFTER A YEAR OF WORK, BUT SUMMER SCHOOL WAS ATTENDED BY A FEW OLD FAITHFULS

Twirling classes were held on campus again this year, and aspirant majorettes of all ages enthusiastically participated.

The swimming courses were especially nice, because you could not only acquire an even tan, but you could also lose weight by exercising.

T W C 'S ON-CAMPUS POOL PROVIDED MANY HOURS OF RECREATION AFTER CLASSES

Wild and furious water games like keepaway and water volley-ball and water-tag made the swimming pool second only in popularity to the snack-bar in the SUB.

Come on back, kids, All we want to do is take a picture.

Screams and shouts punctuated the hot afternoons, and kept the life-guards on their toes wondering if someone were dying, or if there were a game in progress.

Summer School's smiling Queen Sharon dances the first dance with her escort.

SUMMER CAME TO A SPECTACULAR END WITH THE SUMMER SCHOOL DANCE

Talented Penny Shorow, as lovely and gracious as any queen herself, added a great deal of atmosphere to the dance.

Dancing takes a lot of concentration and practice to do it well, but Rocky and Ed are probably going professional judging from the looks of things.

Vacation time is here at last!

WITH ANOTHER
SCHOOL YEAR OVER, WE

BID FAREWELL TO TEXAS
WESTERN COLLEGE AND THE CITY OF THE SUN.

SOME OF THE HIGHLIGHTS OF THE

The Kangaroo Kourt, this year, was presided over by Mr. John Middagh, and was held for those students who didn't wear western clothes on Go-Western Day.

This line-up of, uh, . . . unique looking characters seemed to be enjoying the Western Day Dance.

A Castro Look-Alike Contest was held, and some of the results were startling. Witness the group on the left.

1960-61 SCHOOL YEAR IN CANDIDS

Kelli and Paula, members of the Modern Dance Club, strike a pose for the cameraman before they presented a recital at a recent beauty contest.

Anna Maria Encina, the 1961 basketball queen, receives her trophy from Dean McCarty, during the half-time presentations.

Lovely Barbara Horak and her husband seem to be wondering who will be selected the 1961 Kappa Sig sweetheart at the Black and White Ball held this spring.
