

We watch with pride and respect as Bob Prensky executes a smart salute. He is but one of the young men in uniform who represents the R.O.T.C. department of our college. These are students who are learning to be future members of the Armed Services. They learn and practice Military Science and Tactics throughout the year. A summer camp gives them opportunity to prove themselves as soldiers. They add a great amount of color to Texas Western College.

A student gets help in preparing for inspection.

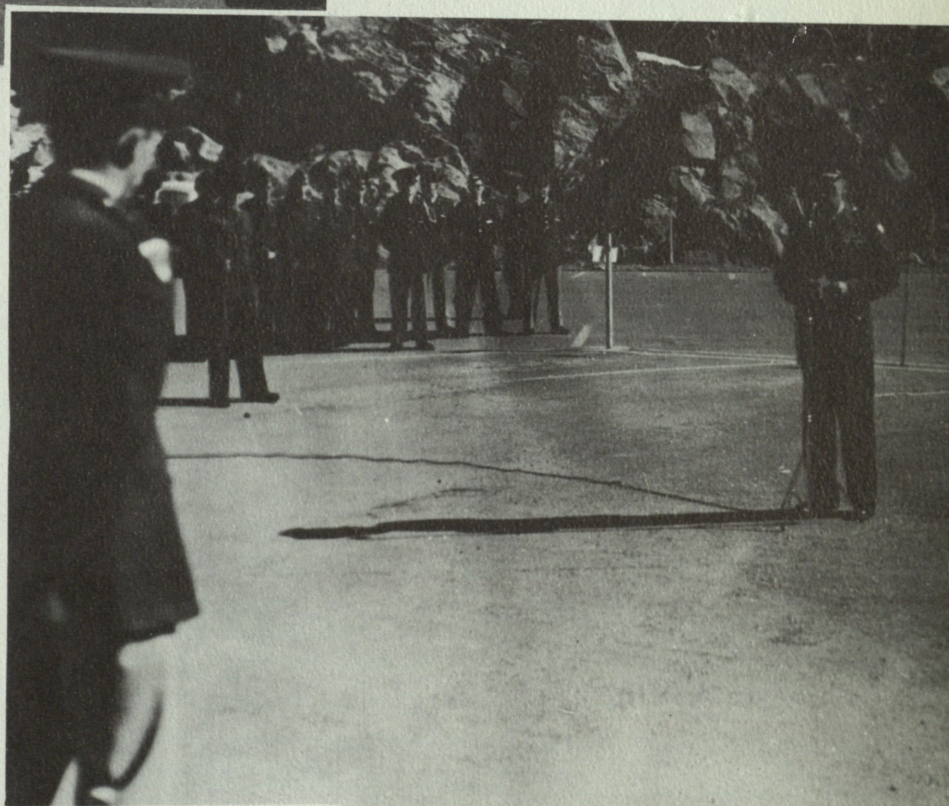

"So I gave him two gigs instead of one."

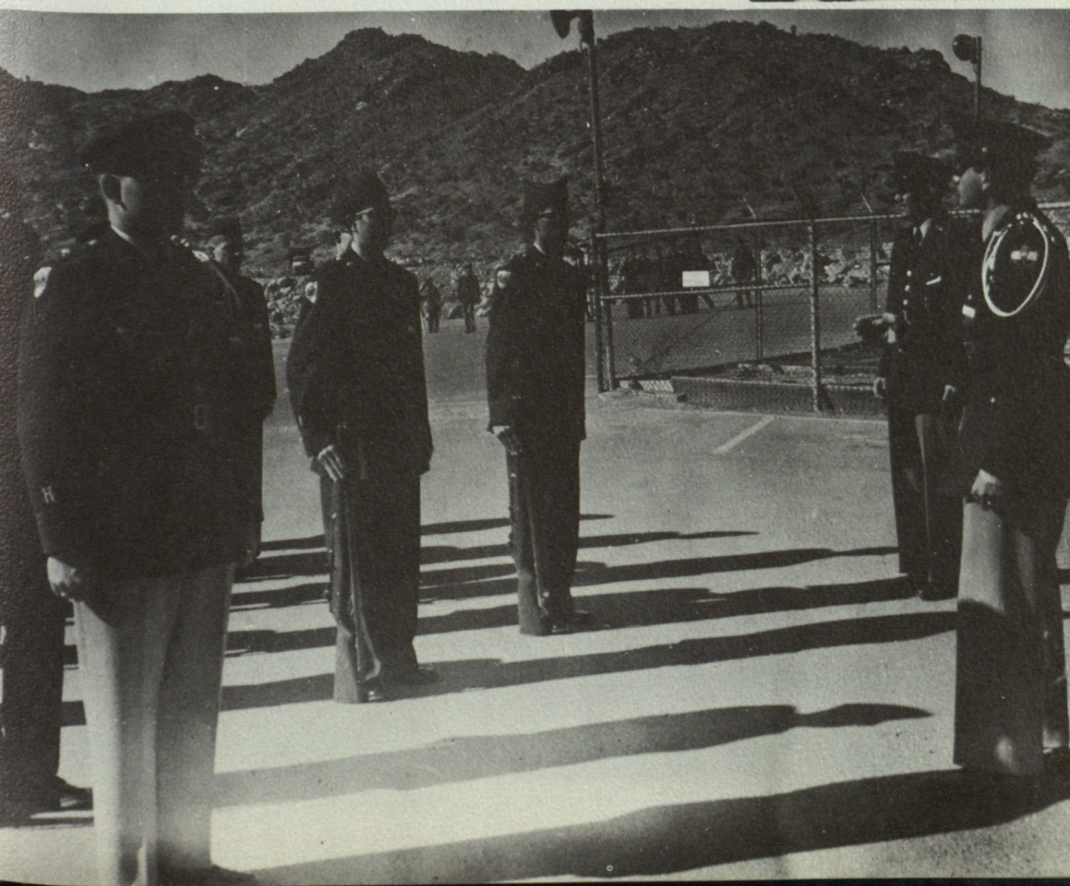

A platoon in the midst of inspection.

"Hup, two, three, four"

"Some of you may not become officers . . ."

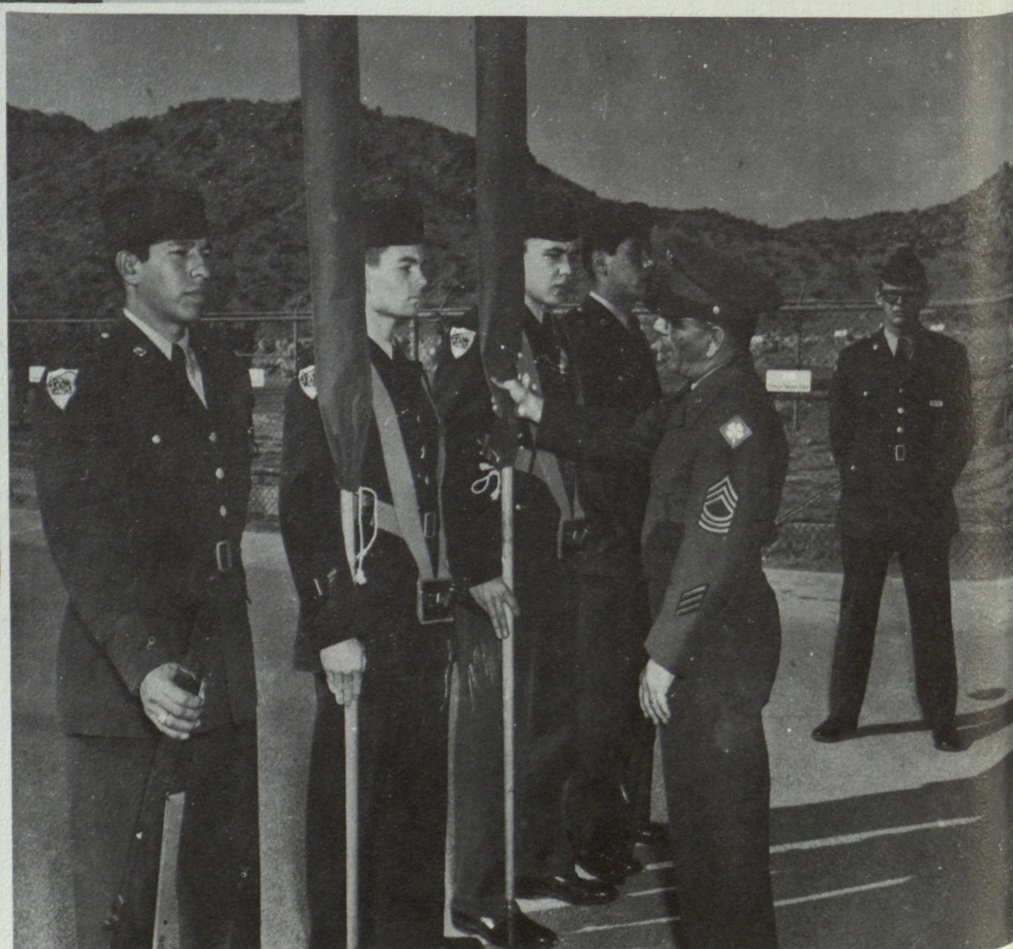

"Now, look, this is an important inspection so look and act sharp."

Ready for inspection

"Did you shine this brass soldier?"

"Now the proper way to carry this is . . ."

FLAG RAISING

A part of every school day, was the raising of our beloved flag. The members of the Reserve Officers Training Corps did an efficient and impressive job of raising "Old Glory" for the college each day.
