In this Jubilee year, let us look at some of the groups that were formed in the early days of our college, but which fell by the wayside in the passage of time.

Groups of aspiring authors have banded together from time to time; the Scriblerus Club which, with the students from the Junior College of El Paso in 1927, was followed by the Quill Club, who produced their own Magazine, The Parchment.

However, there does remain at this college one unsolved mystery. Who were the R. F. D. Co-ed Club of 1924? If, after scanning the various college organizations in this section, there should be someone with the necessary time and inclination, why not form a group for the purpose of clearing up this riddle?

The Student Senate is the workhorse of the student government. Out of it come up to twenty different committees during the course of the year. These committees, under the direction of the Rules committee and the Student Association Vice-president, accomplish whatever work is necessary for the success of the many activities on the campus which fall under Student Association jurisdiction.

Membership in the Senate consists of either one or two representatives from each campus-recognized organization. Each organization, be it Greek or independent, social or service, is allowed one representative if its membership falls below 25 and two if it has over 25 members. In addition, a maximum of ten unaffiliated students may be seated.

The Texas Western College Judo Club is striving to promote the art and science of Kodokan Judo in Texas, but more particularly in the El Paso area. The club hopes to promote better relationships among Judoka (the student) on a higher level of sportsmanship and friendly endeavor, and maintain participation in Judo activities of Texas and national organizations.

Although the Judo Club is barely a year old, it has already participated in various contests. A shiai in Roswell, New Mexico, and the Second Annual Fort Hood Invitational Judo Tournament are two of their more important contests.

The largest item on the club's agenda for the 1964 spring semester is the National Collegiate Judo Championships which are going to be held at TWC.

Beltran and Gonzalez are about to start a throw—engaging in right natural posture.

The club is going through "Taiso" or the warm-up exercises.

Phrateres International is a democratic, non-Greek, service organization. Sigma chapter has several service projects, one being the adoption of a needy family for one year. At Thanksgiving and Christmas, the girls of Phrateres provide them with food, and at Easter, they buy the family clothes. Once a month, they buy the family's supply of milk. Another service project is helping out at the Youth Center, and the campus service is that of tying orange and white streamers on the cars before every football game. They also usher at various campus events.

Scholarship is stressed in Phrateres, and while pledges must make a 2.0 to become actives, they must maintain a 2.5 overall grade point average to remain actives. Officers must have an even higher average.

Phrateres has won the best Independent Organization on Campus award for the last three years, and this year they won first place in the car division of the Homecoming parade.

The officers this year were Emma McKnight, President; Kelli Rocha, Vice President; Irene Soriana, Secretary; Paula Ronquille, Historian-Parliamentarian; Myrna Matoy and Lynn Moresco, Pledge Mistresses; and Nancy Patterson, Intramurals Director.

GREEKS

The Greek system at Texas Western College is almost as old as the campus itself. The first Greek group on campus was Alpha Phi Omega, a local organization, which was founded in 1919, forty-five years ago. There followed numerous local Greek social clubs for both men and women, and in the late 1930's, the women's groups affiliated with National Panhellenic Council Fraternities. The local men's organizations joined National Inter-Fraternity groups during the 1940's, and since that time the system has grown to include eight fraternities and five sororities.

Panhellenic Council and Inter-Fraternity Council work closely together to coordinate their groups. Together, they sponsor a Pledge Council which is comprised of representatives of each sorority and fraternity pledge class. Their job is to bind the pledge groups closer together so they can fully cooperate with one another as active members.

The Greek system on campus also sponsors an annual Greek Week, which is a week of service performed by the fraternities and sororities. This year, they sponsored a faculty bean feed, where they presented awards to the outstanding faculty man and woman. All students and faculty members on campus were invited. Also, the groups volunteered to assist with collecting for the United Fund. For entertainment during the week, an All-Greek party was held, as well as a very successful hootenanny in the Sub ballroom.

The Greek system is successful on our campus, and this is proved by their ever-increasing numbers and their above-average scholarship. Greeks are encouraged to participate in all the campus activities and thus are seen in every phase of campus life.

Janet Lawless collects for the United Fund while Dr. E. Richeson enjoys the Greek Week Faculty Bean Feed.

Pretty costumes and singing dominated the scene at the AE Phi rush parties.

Alpha Epsilon Phi was founded on October 19, 1909 at Brandeis University in New York. A relatively new sorority on the TWC campus, AE Phi was established here in the fall of 1961, and currently, there are 55 chapters throughout the country. Their colors are green and white, their flower the lily of the valley, and their jewel the pearl. Their national philanthropy is a scholarship program to aid deserving students. AE Phi's local civic service is adopting needy families at Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter in order that these people may have as happy a time as more fortunate families.

Alpha Epsilon Phi is very active on campus, having members on the student council, on Panhellenic council, and in student senate. They entered Sing Song with a medley of love songs, and they made a very impressive sight in their black dresses. Among their honors, Sheila Hoffman is the sweetheart of Sigma Alpha Mu, Ann Reznikov was a finalist in the Flow-sheet beauty contest, and Ann Sherwin is the El Paso Queen of Restaurants.

Heading Alpha Epsilon Phi this year were Sandra Menacker, President; Thelma Levine, Vice President; Linda Ulin, Recording Secretary; Sandra Epstein, Corresponding Secretary, Eileen Morgan, Treasurer; Ann Sherwin, Rush Chairman; and Sheila Hoffman, Ritual Chairman.

CHI OMEGA

Chi Omega was founded in 1895 at the University of Arkansas in Fayetteville, Arkansas. Rho Delta of Chi Omega was established here at Texas Western in 1939. Betty Jane Thomas acted as President for the 1963-64 school year. Serving with her were Liz McCutcheon as Vice President, Zelda Rippe as Secretary, Pat Fletcher as Treasurer, and Christy Upshaw as Pledge Trainer.

Active participation in campus activities is a sorority must! Chi Omega placed first in campus house decorations and second in the car parade to climax Homecoming Week. Singing a medley of Rodgers and Hammerstein favorites, Chi Omega won the Sweepstakes trophy in the annual Sing Song held December 17th. With a take-off on "Gone with the Wind," Chi Omega placed third in Variety Show.

Chi Omega can list such honors as two Flowsheet beauties, the Freshman Favorite, members of the Military court, the A.W.S. president, president of Chenrzig, Miss El Paso, and the Miss T.W.C. beauty division winner to their string of activities, as well as several fraternity sweethearts.

Delta Delta Delta, founded on the Texas Western campus in 1938, has at the present time seventy-two members, forty-seven actives and twenty-three pledges.

Their active participation in campus activities can be seen through their numerous trophies. In the spring semester the Tri-Deltas took home a first place variety show win with their interpretation of A Grim Fairy Tale. Dressed in flapper costumes, the girls formed a chorus line back-ground for the sad Cinderella who wanted to go to the ball. The 1963 Homecoming activities brought them the sweepstakes trophy. The entire front part of the Tri-Delta lodge was covered in such a manner as to represent a giant mountain at whose base was a Miner. Other Achievements of this group include first place in the sorority division of the 1963 annual Sing Song in which they sang a medley of Christmas songs and the Sweepstakes award in the Campus Carnival.

Heading this group of girls are President, Diane Dreckman, Vice-President, Mary Calderella, Secretary, Beverly Milner, Treasurer, Stevie Rogers, and Chaplain, Diane French.

Kappa Delta Sorority of Texas Western College, formerly Phi Beta Chi, a local sorority on campus, received its national affiliation on the 17th of November 1963. Kappa Delta Sorority was founded in October of 1897 in West Virginia, and at present there are 101 chapters of Kappa Delta Sorority.

During the past year the group has participated in several of the campus and city activities. One of the most enjoyable activities was participation in the annual variety show. Kappa Delta Sorority did a skit concerning the founding of a sorority and the building of a sorority lodge. During the year the girls have participated in several beauty contests including the Miss El Paso and Miss

T.W.C. contests. When election time came around several members ran for class favorite and for A.W.S. officers. In the area of scholarship, the 1963 Spring pledge class won a trophy for having the highest pledge class average.

The 1963 Homecoming Parade gave Kappa Delta another chance for participation on campus. Like many of the other groups Kappa Delta built a float. On the float was a very large gold football with the date of Texas Western's founding and the date of the 50th anniversary. Goal posts with the Texas Western and Texas Tech colors formed a background for the 1962 homecoming queen, Peggy Wright.

A gay time was enjoyed by all during the Spanish setting of Kappa Delta's second night of fall rush.

Zeta Tau Alpha was founded at Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia on October 15, 1898. It was the first social fraternity to be officially chartered by the Virginia State Legislature. Gamma Gamma Chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha was founded on the Texas Western College campus in 1838 making the seventy-sixth chapter. There are now one hundred and fifteen college chapters comprising the international fraternity, one chapter being in Canada.

Last spring Zeta took honors in the campus carnival as the first place winner in the sorority division. The booth with pink and white striped canopy sold sandwiches and beverages. Zeta entered a winning float in the Golden Jubilee Homecoming Parade by taking first place in the sorority division. The dazzling float, done in shining gold with mirrored sunbursts, carried out the theme of "Ring out the old, ring in the new" by having models of both the Campus of the College of Mines in 1913 and today's Texas Western Campus. At the invitation of the Sun Carnival Association, Zeta Tau Alpha entered her float in the Sun Carnival parade. Zeta's are also outstanding in the field of scholarship. In the spring Zeta actives won the scholarship trophy among the sororities. Zeta also received the award for outstanding scholarship on campus.

Officers of the group are Pennye Pinnell, President; Barbie Reeves, Vice-President; Dorothy Aiken, Secretary; Sue Hayes, Treasurer; and Bernadette Flynn, Chaplain.

These are the engineering symbols that are so familiar to the members of APO.

Alpha Phi Omega is the oldest fraternity on the Texas Western Campus. It was founded in 1919 when TWC was the Texas College of Mines. Since its inception it has restricted membership requirements to second semester freshmen and up who have maintained a two point grade average; but who must also be enrolled in some phase of the engineering, mathematics, physics, geology, metallurgy, or mining programs. As scholarship is of prime importance, Alpha Phi Omega presently holds the Inter-Fraternity Council trophy for the highest fraternity grade point on campus. Of the many civic activities in which the APO's participate, ushering at the annual Southwestern Rodeo is the one for which they are best known. Of course, the APO milk fund drive is familiar to all TWC students. APO pledges are seen stopping cars around the campus and other costumed pledges solicit contributions, the proceeds going to a needy organization. Being a social fraternity, the annual Christmas Party and Spring Formal top the social calendar. Alpha Phi Omega has remained a local fraternity with no national fraternity affiliations.

DELTA CHI

The Texas Western Chapter of Delta Chi, chartered in April, 1961, has proven to be one of the fastest growing Greek organizations on campus.

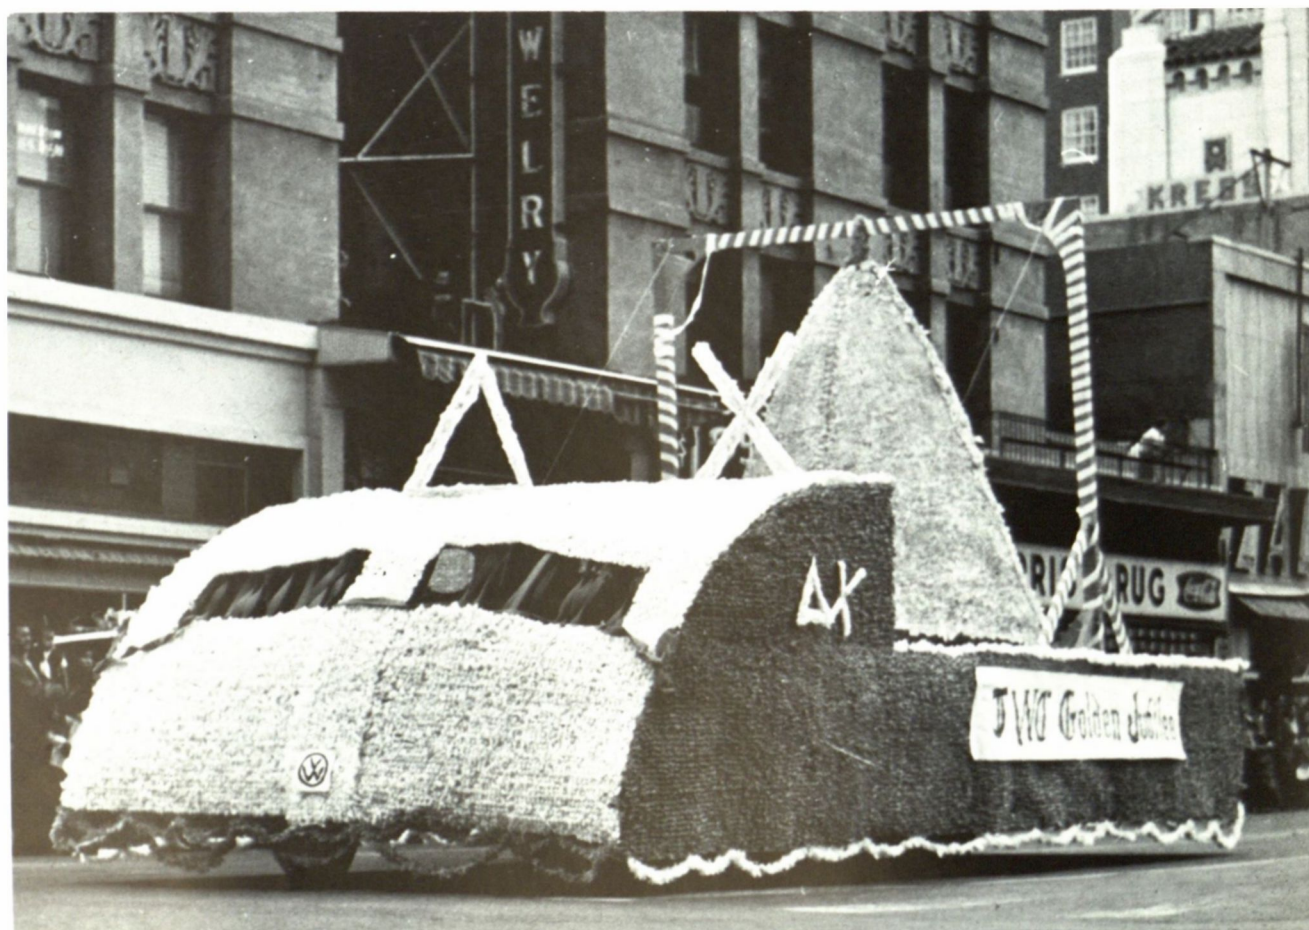

The founders and original members of this chapter first met three years ago in the tower of Hudspeth Hall. From that time the fraternity's growth has taken it through three houses to its current location at 1515 N. Mesa.

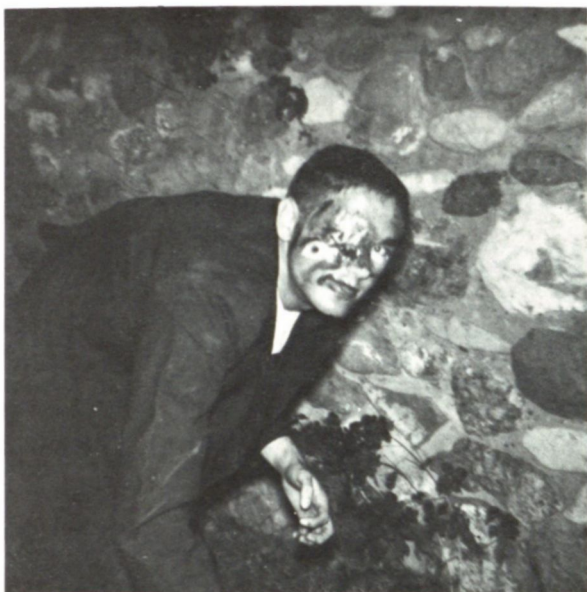

Now the brothers have a large residence with facilities for members living in the house. Activities range from an extensive social calendar to a personalized scholarship program.

Nationally, Delta Chi was originally formed in 1890. Our current living membership now total's more than 16,500.

The Epsilon Xi Chapter of Kappa Sigma has been on the Texas Western campus since 1949. With an accent on athletics, Kappa Sigma has won the intramural championship six times out of the past ten years. Last year they won the school championship by bringing down first place honors in baseball, volleyball, handball, and second in football and basketball with third in swimming and track competition. Three members of this year's first string TWC football squad are Kappa Sigs. Kappa Sigma is also aware of its civic responsibilities and has an annual Christmas party for the Southwestern Children's Home. Also this year the chapter aided the home by doing some necessary painting and repairs.

Proud members of Kappa Sigma display their championship trophies.

One civic responsibility performed by Kappa Sigma was the painting of the Southwestern Children's Home.

Kappa Sigma's entry in the Homecoming Parade won the third place trophy.

Zeta Epsilon of Lambda Chi Alpha, the largest international fraternity and second largest national Greek organization, was founded at Texas Western in 1946. Lambda Chi Alpha credits to its brotherhood and scholastic achievement outstanding men in all walks of life. Zeta Epsilon is also known at T.W.C. for its civic service projects such as lighting luminarias at Christmas time and annual parties for orphans and underprivileged children of El Paso. Lambda Chi uses the big brother system to mold pledges into well informed, educated leaders of society. The social aspect of Greek life is by no means overlooked at Zeta Epsilon. A variety of social events and "type parties" are stressed with the White Rose Ball forming the high point of the social calendar. "Crescent Girls," the woman's auxiliary, is an important asset to the Brotherhood.

Tekes working on Golden Jubilee Float.

Working on a float is a sticky business.

A growing organization both nationally and locally, Tau Kappa Epsilon prides itself on selecting its men "Not for wealth, rank, or honor, but for personal worth and character." Teke was founded in 1899 at Illinois Wesleyan University and is now the largest fraternity in the world, with 200 chapters in the United States and Canada. The Tekes at Texas Western follow the national tradition of loyalty to the alma mater by stressing scholarship and school support, as well as a social program.
