

Organizations

Thirty years ago, when the M Club was organized for men lettering in any varsity sport, there were few organizations on campus, and few projects and activities in which to enlist students.

This picture from the 1925 Flowsheet shows the original M Club.

Although the M club is one of the few to survive from the earlier days of the college, today there are organizations to promote student activity and interest in every phase of college life: honorary, professional, and social.

Besides having their individual interests and activities together, these organizations sponsor projects of collegiate and community benefit.

DON'T PASS THE BUCK GIVE IT!

One of the bigger varsity projects each year is the Campus Chest, made in cooperation with the nation wide Community Chest Drive in the fall.

Organizations sponsor candidates for Mr. Miner and Miss Golddigger, who are elected by the amount of contributions made in their name.

Each year the drive is initiated with a rally in Magoffin Auditorium. The drive slogan written across the stage shows some of the work that goes into these yearly projects.
