ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Nancy Miller Hamilton, a native El Pasoan, attended the Texas College of Mines and Metallurgy, but received her B.A. in Journalism from Texas Western College in 1949, the year the institution changed its name. She returned for an M.A. in English in 1954, then became an employee of The University of Texas at El Paso in 1976, first in media relations for the News Service and since 1986 as associate director of Texas Western Press. She is also assistant editor of NOVA, the university's quarterly magazine.

Her career has focused on writing and editing, including thirteen years with newspapers and eighteen years in educational public relations. She is accredited by the Public Relations Society of America and is past president of Rio Grande Chapter. In 1988 she became vice president and president-elect of the Western Writers of America. Her articles have been published in magazines, journals, and anthologies, and she is a contributor to the forthcoming new edition of the Handbook of Texas. She is married to Ralph E. Hamilton.
