Ten Outstanding Color Movie On Swedish Newspaper TW Library Uses Visits Prospector Being Filmed

A 14-minute color film is being made in the Twentieth Century-Fox library. The film, "How To Use the Library," has been made by the Twentieth Century-Fox library. The film is a silent movie but will have a commentary on a tape which will be played simultaneously with the movie.

The film follows the procedure a student would go through in writing a term paper on "Cancer." It shows all the index work and the book stacks which would be used in such work.

Gordon Ponder is doing the technical work and Kenneth Wright is helping him. They are both students of the college. Miss Nellie Francis, instructor in English, is having the students do the work in place of a term paper.

"We are very grateful," Mr. Ponder said, "because it will be such a permanent asset to the library. When the film is completed it will become the property of the library and will be available for all to use."

The first 50 feet of the film have been shot. When finished, it will show the library building, the reading room, and will have several action shots, Mr. Ponder said.

Mr. Ponder gave the procedure for the pictures and will write the commentary for it.

"Angel Street" is a communication to be presented by the college. Players in Magnolia, Mississippi, are entering final rehearsal today for Tuesday run Thursday and Friday.

According to Charles Baker, drama instructor, "Angel Street" will take the lead role of Mrs. Hamilton. In this role she portrays a young woman who is married to a young man who is in the military service. The part of the young man will be played by Mr. Baker. The part of the young man's mother will be played by Mrs. Baker. The part of the young man's father will be played by Mr. Baker.
